REPUBLICANS FEDERAL AID IN S. A. FIRE GUNS FOR HARDING SOUGHT BY GROWERS

Mrs. Raymond Robins and Judge Swing Address
Throng at Birch Park

Declaring that Senator Warren G. Harding has a keen and sympathetic understanding of the great social needs of the day, and striking at the League of Nations plan as proposed by President Wilson, Mrs. Raymond Robins of Chicago, addressed a large audience at Birch Park yesterday afternoon.

Preceding Mrs. Robins' address Judge Phil D. Swing, of El Centro, Republican nominee for congress, spoke briefly. In his address, Judge Swing emphasized his belief that now that the war is over it is time to pay attention to things at home, to develop latent resources and to provide adequate protection for established industries.

The attendance at this meeting, the first Republican rally of the campaign, was very pleasing indeed to A. E. Koepsel, chairman of the Republican county central committee, Mrs. A. J. Lawton, and S. M. Reinhaus, the committee that arranged it.

Close attention and applause marked the gathering.

"This eleventh congressional district is a great district," said Judge Swing. "It extends from the coast to the mountains and from the mountains to the lowest spot in America. Its problems are many and varied."

"The war took our interest away. It is now time to return to our own home problems. We went into the war because our sovereignty was threatened, because Germany announced that it would blow up our ships. That's why we fought, not because we wanted a league of nations."

"President Wilson and Americans with him went to France bearing a draft of a league that they had drawn up. Secretary of State Lansing, on returning, said that there was not one paragraph of that draft incorporated into the covenant agreed upon."

Government Officials Blamed for Chaos Caused by Decline in Prices

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Farmers in session here today adopted a report demanding government assistance to stave off "general inevitable bankruptcy," threatened by falling prices.

The farmers are to lay their demands before Governor Harding of the federal reserve board and Secretary of the Treasury Houston at a conference at 4 p. m. today.

The demands call for a lowering of the re-discount rate of the federal reserve banks and expansion of credits.

The report was prepared by a committee representing farmers from many states, both in the wheat and cotton belts, in convention here at the call of the National Board of Farm Organizations.

The report scores Secretary Houston and other government officials for announcing a price decline in progress, which, the report said caused banks of the country to restrict loans vitally needed by farmers.

"Current market prices for farm products are below the cost of production," the report read, "and unless some immediate remedy be found to relieve the situation, general bankruptcy and ruin are inevitable. The condition now facing the agriculturalists is not confined to any one section or any one product."

"In our judgment it is wrong as a matter of policy artificially to press down prices, and it is particularly wrong to begin with the raw commodities."

"The condition of agriculture is now desperate. The condition of mind of the farmer population is ominous. Producers of all crops have come to feel that the hand of the government is against them."

"It is no concern of the federal reserve system or of the treasury department what the producers of the country may determine is a fair price."

Among signers of the report was T. R. Kilkenny, Arizona.

CALIFORNIA BEAUTY 'STUMPING' EASTERN STATES FOR RAISINS

Violet Oliver

When it came time for California raisin growers to start their eastern advertising campaign they decided to send Miss Violet Oliver, whom they claim to be California's prettiest girl, among the eastern folks to tell them about California's wonderful raisins. Miss Oliver is prepared to furnish her eastern sisters with all sorts of recipes in which raisins can be used to great advantage. Raisin dishes and raisin drinks in great numbers are at the tip of her tongue. Recently Miss Oliver visited the "front porch" at the home of Senator Harding at Marion, Ohio. It was here that the picture above was taken.

FATHER SLAYS INFANT. CHARGE

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 13.—William Kolonski, ex-soldier, aged 24, was under arrest today charged with the murder of his four months old baby boy.

Police were first told, they said, the baby was killed in an accidental fall, but the report of an autopsy surgeon was that the injuries which caused death could not have resulted from such a fall.

They claimed they had reason to believe that the father, possibly in a fit of anger, dashed the child against a wall.

Kolonski's wife is a Russian girl whom he married while serving with the American forces in Siberia.

DENTON ESTATE CONTEST LOOMS

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 13.—While deputy district attorneys continued today in their work of correlating the mass of evidence collected in the Denton murder case in preparation for the grand jury probe tomorrow, friends and relatives were to gather for the funeral of Jacob C. Denton, to be held at 10 o'clock today.

Mrs. Richard C. Peete, former tenant in the Denton home, was again questioned by Chief Deputy District Attorney W. C. Doran last night. No intimation as to the results of the two-hour query were made public.

Doran today denied rumors that sensational developments which would make a grand jury probe unnecessary were expected.

A possible legal clash over the estate of Denton between Frances Denton, his fifteen year old daughter, by his first wife, and her mother, Mrs. Dolly Winters Denton, his second wife, loomed today. The Denton estate will total $150,000, according to Judge Russ Avery, administrator.

WAR CLOUDS GATHER IN EUROPE

New Threats Launched as Poles and Bolsheviks Sign Peace Treaty

LONDON, Oct. 13.—Peace has been signed between Poland and Russia, effective at midnight, October 18.

Renewed fighting is expected between the Bolsheviks and General Wrangel's troops in the south. Other war clouds gathered in Lithuania, where the government was reported drafting troops to Kovno to expel General Zeigowski and his soldiers, who seized Vilna and made it a "free city."

A dispatch from Constantinople said Armenia had declared war on Turkish nationalists and ordered general mobilization.

Dispatches from Riga said a war-like ceremony accompanied signing of the peace treaty. The lengthy treaty was read three times, in Russian, Polish and Lithuanian.

Through it Poland gains in territory and has succeeded in establishing a corridor between Lithuania and Russia. The soviet succeeded in avoiding payment of gold first claimed by Poland.

ANTI-SOVIET WORKERS ARE ATTACKED BY TROOPS.

STOCKHOLM, Oct. 13.—Soviet troops are attacking barricaded workmen in Moscow's streets, according to unofficial dispatches received here today. The Helsingfors correspondent of the Aftenblad, said authorities were alarmed by anti-soviet demonstrations in factories at Moscow and were concentrating troops there.

The Stockholm dispatch follows others of similar nature indicating serious unrest in Russia under the Bolshevik regime. Earlier dispatches reported uprisings of factory workers in Moscow and nearby cities which were quelled by soviet troops. A band of sailors was reported to have entered Petrograd with naval guns, urging workers to join them.

Dispatches from other countries indicated a loss of Bolshevik prestige.

BOLSHEVIK TROOPS GATHER FOR NEW UKRAINIAN ATTACK.

WARSAW, Oct. 13.—The Polish commune today said Bolshevik troops were concentrating near Zmorynka for an attack on the Ukrainians to be started soon after the signing of the Polish peace treaty.

HOME BREW BRINGS JOY TO ANGLE WORMS

LONG BEACH, Oct. 13.—George John Mitchell, who lives at the foot of Third street, in the harbor district, made a quantity of home brew recently for his personal use.

It did not turn out to his satisfaction, so he dumped it in the yard in the rear of his house. Now in this back yard there is a little pool which contains scores of angle worms, the owner being an ardent follower of Isaac Walton.

The brew ran into the pool and the next day the worms woke up with headaches and dark-brown tastes, it is declared. Some of the wigglers showed symptoms of joy by crawling out on the bank, where they performed acrobatic stunts and serpentine dances. Some, perhaps a little more affected than the rest, started to climb near-by vines and trees. Conditions were reported to be almost back to normal today.

Harding Treads On Democratic Soil In Quest of Votes

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Oct. 13.—Senator Warren G. Harding arrived here in the heart of the Solid South today to battle for the cause of Republicanism on ground that has in the past gone Democratic in national elections. The belief that opposition to the League of Nations and the Wilson administration has made a fertile ground for the Republican cause in Tennessee has prompted one of the most energetic campaigns in many years.

The candidate expects to motor over the famous Civil War battlefields in this vicinity today, including Lookout Mountain and Missionary Ridge. Harding, in his speech here today, probably will appeal for a final healing of old wounds and the wiping out of sectionalism.

These bonds also bear an interest rate of 6 per cent.

The killing of Major George Smyth at Drumcondra created a sensation here and fear was expressed it might result in an uprising in Ulster. The major was a brother of Commissioner Smyth of the Royal Irish Constabulary, assassinated in Cork last summer. Another officer was killed and one man wounded in the Drumcondra raid.

QUARTET SHOOT DOWN OFFICER IN DAYLIGHT RAID NEAR SAN JOSE

SAN JOSE, Oct. 13.—Four bandits robbed the bank of Alvarado, at Alvarado, a small town near here, shortly after noon today, shot and perhaps fatally wounded August May, president of the bank, and escaped with approximately $50,000 after locking several persons in a vault.

The four armed but unmasked men whisked into town a few minutes past noon in a large roadster.

President May, the cashier, a clerk and one patron, were in the bank when three bandits of the quartet entered. The fourth remained at the wheel of the car outside.

May was shot down when he made a move as if to attack the foremost highwayman.

The intruders then coolly marched the others into a vault and whirled the combination.

All roads surrounding this city were being watched this afternoon.

URGE NEW PLAN FOR JUVENILES

There is urgent need of a juvenile home and school in Orange county for taking care of boys and girls between the ages of 12 and 16 years who may be brought before the authorities for various crimes and whose cases may be considered of too severe a nature to make it advisable to place them with the children at the home on Grand avenue, Santa Ana.

This was the gist of opinions expressed today before the board of supervisors by a number of citizens of Anaheim and vicinity. Among those who addressed the supervisors was Judge R. Y. Williams, of the Superior Court. The necessity of taking action in connection with a new juvenile home arose, it was stated, through the case of a 14-year-old boy at Katella, who was taken into custody by officers for an alleged serious offense.

The supervisors appointed the following committee to formulate a plan: Judge Williams, District Attorney L. A. West, Probation Officer Paul Wright, Attendance Officer W. C. Roberts.

The plan this committee will formulate will aim to take care temporarily of the juvenile cases in question. The committee may suggest that a suitable building be obtained. In the course of a year or so it may be found necessary to erect a building.

Fred Ahlborn, H. N. Adams, Clara Head, W. C. Maerhan, and Charles Bygabroad were among those who addressed the supervisors.

It is stated that a home such as the one proposed is permitted by the state under the school fund laws.

PACKERS OPEN WAR ON DEMURRAGE BOOST

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Railroad proposals to increase demurrage charges on freight cars detained by shippers were attacked by the Institute of American Meat Packers in a brief filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission, where the question is pending. The packers asserted that much of the delay moving freight equipment was due to the railroads themselves, that in increase in demurrage charges would not necessarily increase the efficiency of operation and would penalize shippers unnecessarily.

The governor has always been popular here and especially so because of his decided stand on the Japanese question. The meeting will be held out of doors in the great amphitheater if possible and it is expected that 4000 or 5000 will hear the address.

The Republican organization is well under way and the slogan of the leaders is "the largest Republican vote Redlands has ever given." Redlands has never failed to return a big vote for the Republican candidates.

W. C. SIMMONS IS GRANTED PROBATION IN DEATH CASE

W. C. Simmons, Balboa hotel man, appeared today before Superior Judge R. Y. Williams and pleaded guilty to a charge of involuntary manslaughter, to which he was held to answer following the death of Herbert C. King of Balboa, on May 15.

A plea for probation was entered by Simmons' attorney, Clyde Bishop, and this was seconded by Deputy District Attorney W. F. Menton. The plea was granted by Judge Williams after witnesses testifying to Simmons' character and good standing were heard. The probationary period is for five years.

Simmons was arrested following an investigation made by Deputy District Attorney W. F. Menton into King's death. The investigation was prompted by reason of a dispute which Simmons had with King and in which it was alleged Simmons struck King. The dispute was over an alleged worthless check given to Simmons by King. Simmons is said to have demanded a settlement on the check several times before the alleged dispute took place.

Physicians who testified at the coroner's inquest and at the preliminary hearing before Justice Cox declared that King's death was due to blows received on the head. Several months previous to the dispute with Simmons, King was in a street car accident, in which he was seriously injured. Physicians expressed the opinion that the injuries sustained at that time were aggravated in the alleged attack made on King by Simmons and hastened his death.

That Simmons pleaded guilty to the manslaughter charge was a surprise to his friends, who had confidently expected to see him cleared of the charge before a jury. It was on the advice of Attorney Bishop that Simmons decided to enter the plea of guilty and ask for probation. Bishop was of the opinion that a jury would fail to agree on a conviction in the case, but on the other hand was doubtful if a jury would find Simmons not guilty.

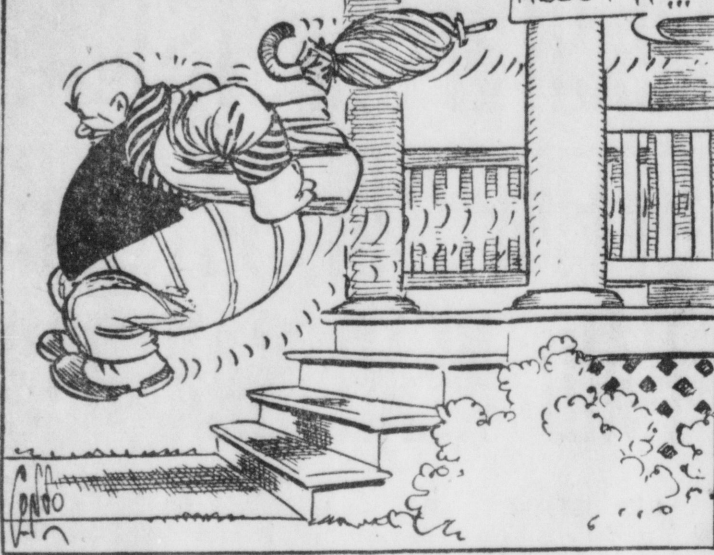

Simmons has been in business at Balboa for several years. He operates the Balboa Hotel and Palisades Tavern. He has taken a prominent part in the activities of the city, and the death of King following the dispute with Simmons was deplored by Simmons' friends.

Among those who testified in Simmons' behalf today before Judge Williams were:

Lew H. Wallace, president of the First National Bank of Newport Beach; Mayor J. P. Greeley, of Newport Beach, and Charles Way, prominent business man of the beach city.

League Issue Discussed By Republican Speakers

Mrs. Robins Declares Harding Has Broad Constructive Views

The test many years, and I personally am willing to take the policy announced by Washington as my policy. Our boys answered the call to arms, but I as one of them, declare that it is my belief that this country would have a hard time getting them to go overseas to fight at the call of any combination of countries.

"There are twenty or more wars going on. Has the league stopped a single one?"

"The Republican party's goal is welfare at home. That is its ideal. I believe first of all in taking care of the things that we most need at home."

"By proper dams the Colorado river can be made to irrigate a million and a half acres. It will produce great quantities of hydro-electric power, which would supply this country as well as other sections of the great southwest."

"Newport has a natural harbor. It should have been developed long ago. In the development of western harbors as it has on the Atlantic coast, the federal government should lead the way."

"The tariff has been neglected long enough. Adjustments must be made to meet the needs of our lemons, oranges, walnuts and other products. If I am elected, I shall be at the service of the people."

Introduces Speaker Mrs. A. J. Lawton called upon Mrs. Katherine P. Edson of Los Angeles to introduce Mrs. Robins. Mrs. Edson declared that Mrs. Robins is one of the most distinguished women in America, a woman who had spent her life in the service of the industrial masses.

In opening her address, Mrs. Robins said that for fifteen years, in order to be close to the people they wished to help, she and her husband had lived on the top floor of a tenement house in Chicago, in a section that had a population of 75,000 in a square mile.

"Senator Harding," she said, "in his address to 12,000 women who assembled at his home, gave us a message on the industrial and social question that points the way to better days. He declared that one of the greatest needs of today is a better understanding among groups of people. He expressed broad and constructive ideas, among which is one for the establishment of a national department of public welfare. He is a man big enough to face the social conditions of today. That is why I am campaigning for him."

Mrs. Robins devoted a portion of her address to the league of nations issue.

"The league cannot be amended excepting by the unanimous vote of its upper house," said she. "What an absurd provision! Suppose the constitution of this country had a provision like that. None of our seventeen amendments could ever have been passed. The league cannot act because it takes unanimous action to put it in motion."

"We hoped for a league that would make for peace. Instead, we are offered one that makes for war."

Speaking of Article 10, Mrs. Robins declared that had the league been in existence in 1776 this country would never have become free, for Article 10 proposes to maintain territorial integrity, and America in 1776 "was a part of England's territorial integrity."

"We wish to be in a position to decide where we shall strike to help others," said she.

"Picture the labor features of this league. Gompers and Robinson asked for a provision to send children to school until they are 16 years of age. It was defeated. They asked for the seaman's act. Defeated. They asked for prohibition of human slavery. It was defeated. Why? Because there are certain countries that still allow bartering in women and children. This league proposes a commission to regulate traffic in women, drugs, and other dangerous drugs. Yes, that is the wording of the covenant. Can you imagine this country taking part in any such thing?"

"Debt of Gratitude" "We are the only people in the world who have discussed the league. The Republican senators challenged it. We owe a great deal of gratitude to those men who made us think."

In closing her address Mrs. Robins related an incident concerning the visit of Theodore and Mrs. Roosevelt to a tenement house in which he declared for a "fair chance for every American born child."

"In dealing with the great mass of humanity there must be a great sense of human sympathy," she said. "and Senator Harding has that sense of sympathy. We should have him for president and with him a Republican congress that we can build for happiness and fair play for every man, woman and child in America."

Enthusiastic Reception Given Judge Swing At Newport Beach Rally

NEWPORT BEACH, Oct. 13.—Many voters of Newport Beach and Costa Mesa last night heard a stirring address by Judge Phil D. Swing of El Centro, Republican nominee for congressman. In that address, Judge Swing declared himself as favoring the keeping of California for Americans and as against the encroachments by Japanese.

"America first" was a slogan that he announced as one of his campaign slogans.

He declared that home problems ought to be taken up by the country's legislators at once. In his address, Judge Swing referred to Newport harbor as one of the projects that he will fight for at Washington.

Judge Swing was given an enthusiastic welcome here, and it is freely predicted that he will get the biggest vote ever given here to a congressional candidate.

Judge Swing spent this morning in the El Modena section, and was in Santa Ana this afternoon meeting voters here. He will be in Orange county tomorrow and will be in Riverside Friday.

VICTORY MEDALS GO OUT VERY SLOWLY

Victory Medals are being applied for so slowly by ex-service men that Major General P. C. Harris, the adjutant general of the army, has notified the officers in charge of the distribution to make the utmost effort to reach all who deserve it. It is estimated that 3,757,624 men who served in the army are entitled to the medal, but to date only 379,214, or about ten per cent of the number, have applied. Applications are coming in at the rate of only 6,800 a day, which is far below the capacity for issue of the working crew in the Philadelphia General Supply Depot. The quartermaster has put on a large force and these men are being held at much expense to the government.

"It is no more difficult to make out a form for Victory Medal," announces General Harris, "than it is to fill out a money order blank. This form verifies the recipient's service and his present whereabouts. It will prevent the medals from falling into the wrong hands. The government's gift is a work of art, not a bauble and has intrinsic as well as sentimental value. It cannot be sent out to unverified addresses, any more than Liberty Bonds or war insurance checks, many of which have been lost before reaching the addressee, in spite of all possible care."

"The ex-service man has only to apply at the nearest army post or recruiting office in his home town, or through any patriotic society, such as the American Legion or the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Here he will be shown how to fill out his blank, and if his discharge papers are correct, the application is forwarded direct to Philadelphia, and the medal mailed within a week. Hundreds of applicants have given wrong addresses, and many medals are returned daily by the post office because the men cannot be located."

For service in the United States, 117,194 medals have been issued to date, and 79,092 for service in foreign countries. There have been 56,005 medals with three battle-clasps issued, and 53,510 with two battle-clasps. These are the largest numbers of all with battle-clasps, which range from one to eleven. There have been 52 medals issued with nine clasps, nine medals with ten clasps, and two with eleven clasps.

The American Legion makes no distinction between members and non-members in the Victory Medal distribution. There are also special blanks for the next of kin, in order that the relatives may obtain the decorations for those who were killed in action, or who died in line of duty.

It is reported that a new light, greatly superior to any previously known, has been perfected in London. This light shows the full value of colors and is almost equal to daylight. It is expected to be especially useful in color photography, in lighting studios, art galleries and show windows, and various other industries.

MAN SEEKS CUSTODY OF HIS DEAD CHILD

MT. VERNON, Ill., Oct. 13.—Asking the law to award him the custody of a dead child, W. H. Warner of Lyons county, Iowa, has sent summons here so that service in his suit for divorce may be had on his wife, Mrs. Ollie Warner of this city.

NEW ARMY DIRIGIBLE MAKES LONG FLIGHT

Capt. Dale Mabry of the air service and a full crew manned the ship during the flight.

URGES HARRIS LAW BE PASSED

W. B. B. Taylor, an attorney of South Pasadena, and member of the staff of the Anti-Saloon league, is spending a few days in Santa Ana. He is here in the interest of the campaign to secure approval of the Harris Law, which has been put to the referendum by the liquor traffic, it is said, and which will appear on the ballot in November as proposition No. 2. It is designated as "Prohibition Enforcement Act."

"All law-abiding citizens are urged to vote yes on No. 2," said Taylor today. "The Eighteenth Amendment has become the Constitutional law of the land. There is nothing to do now but enforce it. All loyal Americans will do this, no matter what their views may be in the past on prohibition."

"The amendment provides that congress and the state legislatures have concurrent power to base enforcing legislation. Congress passed the Volstead act, which provides the federal machinery. In California we have only two federal district courts to take care of the violations of the whole state. Their calendars are congested. They are not enough numerically."

"The Harris law, if approved in November, will permit state courts to try violators of the Eighteenth amendment, and thus supplant the two federal courts, relieve the congestion and make possible an adequate enforcement."

"It must also be remembered that should the Harris law be defeated in the referendum, this will supply propaganda for the liquor traffic to cast broadcast over the country to the effect that California does not want the Eighteenth Amendment enforced. This cannot help but to encourage an element of undesirable residents to come to our shores, just as did happen immediately after the adoption of prohibition in Oregon and Washington."

ASK ANAHEIM TAX RATE FOR ALAMITOS

Application was made today by the school trustees of Anaheim to the County Supervisors to have them annex the high school district of Alamitos to Anaheim.

Alamitos high school pupils are at present attending in Anaheim. Under the school law the Anaheim high school trustees of Anaheim to the cost per pupil on a basis of daily attendance, of Alamitos pupils, and submit the bill to the Alamitos district, and the county assessor must levy a tax on the district sufficient to pay the bill.

Under the proposed annexation, residents of the Alamitos district would merely pay the regular Anaheim high school tax rate. Procedure in the case is said to be that the supervisors must first publish the request in a paper in the Alamitos district, or else post the district, for purposes of a hearing. If no protest is made and allowed within the allotted time, the supervisors then proceed to declare the district annexed. It is understood that such action was taken in November, 1919, by the school trustees of Fullerton in regard to the Centralia school district, but that nothing has since been done about it, and the annexation has never been declared made because the matter has not been followed up since that time by the Fullerton trustees.

GERMAN SOCIALIST FRIENDLY TO FRANCE

CASSEL, Germany, Oct. 13.—At the Socialist congress Herr Cohen, a member of the Majority Socialist party, criticized what he termed the campaign of systematic agitation against France which, he charged, was led by the Berlin newspaper Vorwaerts. Herr Cohen declared in favor of loyal acceptance of the Versailles Treaty and pointed out the necessity for Germany to reach a friendly understanding with France. All the other orators, one of whom was Philipp Scheidemann, former secretary for foreign affairs, protested against the utterances of Herr Cohen.

U. S. IMPORTS ARE GROWING RAPIDLY

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—A decline in exports during August, 1920, as compared with August, 1919, and an increase in imports for the same period is shown by the Department of Commerce summary of the United States' foreign trade. In August, 1920, American exports were valued at $579,052,000, as compared with $646,054,000 in August of last year; the imports were valued at $513,550,000, as compared with $307,293,000.

For the eight months ended with August exports were valued at $5,478,306,000, as compared with $5,272,163,000 during the corresponding period of last year; the imports for the eight months of this year were valued at $3,995,178,000, as compared with $2,261,510,000 for the corresponding period of last year.

The record of exports and imports gives an indication of the extent to which trade with Europe is being re-adjusted in accordance with Europe's recovery and the course of prices in this country.

In August, 1919, American exports to Europe were valued at $417,373,000; in August, 1920, they dropped to $293,034,000. Imports from Europe, on the other hand, which were valued at $66,889,000 in August of last year, increased to $114,751,000 in August, 1920. As between these same two months exports to Denmark decreased from $18,090,000 to $3,799,000; to France, from $55,694,000 to $38,321,000; to Italy, from $28,558,000 to $17,952,000; to Netherlands, from $27,163,000 to $19,921,000; to Spain, from $12,069,000 to $9,419,000; to the United Kingdom, from $204,848,000 to $119,305,000; to Switzerland, from $4,133,000 to $1,719,000. Exports to Germany increased from $1,674,000 to $19,422,000, while imports from Germany increased from $236,000 to $12,489,000. American imports from Norway increased from $547,000 to $2,636,000. CROOKS PATCH UP VOID BANK NOTES

An amazing story came to light recently of how cancelled £100 Bank of England notes which have been stolen have been so skillfully patched up that the thieves have succeeded in cashing them at their full face value.

One of these notes was passed in the betting ring at Newberry races writes a sporting correspondent of the Daily Mail. It is only one of many ingeniously faked notes which have been cashed in the belief that they were perfectly good ones, and the probability is that thousands of pounds have been netted by the authors of that plot.

Before the war all bank notes being returned to the Bank of England were cancelled and sent to a paper factory to be reduced to pulp for conversion into new notes. The cancellation was done by tearing off the lower right-hand corner of the notes and perforating three or four holes in the center.

During the war this practice was suspended, the notes being reissued time after time. Recently however, the old system was reverted to, and the notes were cancelled after being paid in at the Bank of England.

Among the notes lately canceled were a large number of 100 pound notes. To the surprise of the authorities some of these notes have been paid into banks. Examination showed that the notes had been most skillfully "repaired." The corner torn off had been carefully replaced by a corner taken from a note of a lower value—probably 10 pounds—and the perforated holes filled in with bank note paper so neatly as almost to defy detection.

Prompt measures were taken to check the fraud from reaching larger dimensions, and it is safe to assume that it would now be impossible for any one to cash one of these notes at a bank.

City and County

Mrs. Lovisa Leslie has returned from Cleveland and other Ohio cities, where she has been visiting many friends and relatives. Mrs. Leslie's youngest brother, Harry Hewitt, who underwent an operation in a Cleveland hospital some time ago, was improving before she left that city. Mrs. Leslie found Ohio, and particularly Cleveland, in a flourishing condition. Ohio crops will be very good this year, she says, and she adds that Ohio is already enjoying a substantial price reduction. She heard more baseball talk than of politics while in Cleveland, that city being in a frenzy of delight over their team's success.

With Santa Ana as their goal in a 3500-mile motor trip through the Northwest and down the Pacific coast Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Kesten of Milwaukee, Wis., have arrived here. They intend to make Santa Ana their home. They are staying with Mrs. Kesten's brother, C. W. Davies, 313 Minter street. On the trip to California, which required six weeks, visits were made to places of interest enroute and to relatives. Mrs. Kesten drove the entire distance. Very little trouble was encountered on the trip. Two blowouts represented all of the tire trouble.

W. W. Gilbert has sold his shoe repairing shop at 315 East Fourth street to Nathan Fainburg, who came here with his family several days ago from Los Angeles. Fainburg plans to make his home here.

UNIT BOOSTED TO KIWANIS PUPILS TO GET $4,980 REFUND?

"Centralization and co-operation are the winning cards in business," declared E. E. Vincent, President of the Chamber of Commerce and California National Bank, at the Kiwanis club luncheon at James' today, in expressing his appreciation of Kiwanism and the institution of a club in this city.

Today was the second luncheon meeting of the club and the meeting held with the full charter membership of fifty, which has now been obtained. That the club has been put over so quickly is a tribute to the organizer, E. F. Wescott and the principles upon which the organization is founded. Greetings from the Rotary club were brought to the baby Kiwanians by Mae O. Robbins, president of the Rotary club, who assured the members that every member of the Rotary was pleased at the organization of a Kiwanis club here.

Vincent made reference to the Chamber of Commerce and its activities, declaring that the best boon had not been able to accomplish all that it would have liked in past years because the support given was not sufficient. J. C. Metzgar, secretary of the Chamber, followed with a talk on public service. He expressed his desire that the organization of both the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs, as both were organized under public service lines. He said he expected their co-operation in civic matters pertaining to the advancement of the city.

With Metzgar and Vincent laying the foundation, John McFadden, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce membership campaign outlined the plan of the committee and asked the support of the Kiwanians in the campaign.

Kiwanians will join with Rotarians and others in the drive. Members of the Kiwanis club were urged by President O. A. Haley to attend the organization meeting, to be held at the Chamber of Commerce rooms Monday night. The club will give full support to the campaign. Next Wednesday's meeting of Kiwanis will be devoted to permanent organization and to facilitate the work at that time, Walter Eden and M. B. Wellington were appointed a committee to draft by-laws and have them ready for adoption. Haley, Fred C. Blauer, Jabe S. Hill and E. T. Mateer were appointed a committee to name a board of directors, they to be four of the nine members nominated.

"Boosting the other fellow's game" is the subject upon which Rev. J. A. Stevenson will speak. Wescott made a brief address, during which he recited "Breeches".

SEA OFFERS FIELD FOR U. S. INVESTORS

Skeptics who are unable to persuade themselves that America can and will break down the barriers of land-lubbery timidity and tradition and supply the money needed to keep our flag on all the seas ought to draw a poignant lesson from the quick oversubscription of the Bethlehem Steel company's issue of marine bonds for $20,000,000 with a fifteen-year maturity and 7 per cent interest.

Half a century has elapsed since the proud American clipper was master of the sea. But even that long period, it seems, is not enough to eradicate the irresistible line running through Yankee veins which once dominated head, heart and pocketbook and put this nation at the head of all maritime powers. Much has happened since America yielded first place to another. Busy with development work at home, the American investor allowed the call of the sea to go unheeded for the moment, promising himself that he would answer it on another day. But today has now come. A mighty merchant fleet has been built and a huge reservoir of capital will be needed to finance it. In the next few years, it is estimated, probably $2,500,000,000 of private investment funds will be required to build new ships and to transform government to private ownership the vessels built by the shipping board.

To find this cash will be no small task for our bankers. They must explore every brook, every rivulet that empties into the great investment channel. A few years ago the task would have been a hopeless one. But today the sea's appeal to the American investor is stronger than ever and the success of the Bethlehem bonds shows that he knows how to answer.

MEXICAN GUNBOAT ON ISLAND REEF, REPORT

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 13.—Word was received here in a radio message tonight that the Mexican gunboat Progreso, reported to be aground on the Lower California coast, was hard and fast on a rocky ledge on the Sacramento reef, Gerano Island. The message was sent by Capt. Wright of the steamer Annette Rolph. It was said that there were 200 passengers aboard and that these included the wife and other members of the family of the new governor of Lower California, Manuel Balazero.

Capt. Wright's message said that the Progreso had a large hole in her bow, that the Annette Rolph had stood by all this morning, and that he had offered to take off the passengers and crew but that the offer was declined. The steamer then supplied the stranded boat with all the provisions that the Annette Rolph could spare and proceeded toward San Francisco. Sacramento reef is about thirty miles north of San Quintin, and about 230 miles from San Diego. The scene of the grounding is only a few miles from San Carlos Point, where the San Diego steamer Newark, was destroyed a few weeks ago.

In view of the scarcity of farm help, a new automatic pitchfork is a valuable invention. The machine elevates the hay from the trough at the bottom to the hayloft by a revolving chain of pitchforks.

That $4,980 deposited by pupils of the Santa Ana high school for the use of text books may have to be returned to the pupils was the possibility expressed here today by J. L. McBride, president of the board of education, as the result of a ruling against the deposit by the attorney general of the state. A $5 deposit has been collected at the beginning of each school year as a security against loss or misstatement of state text books by the pupils.

There was interest here over dispatches from Long Beach stating that the board of education there must return more than $10,000 which has been paid as deposit fees on free text books issued to high school students. W. L. Stephens, superintendent of the Long Beach city schools, informed the board a decision by the attorney general of the state. The board thereupon voted to rescind the rule requiring a $5 deposit and instructed that deposits paid in already by more than 2000 students be returned at once.

No word has yet been received by the Santa Ana board of education in regard to the attorney general's ruling, and no action has been taken in the matter.

In favor of the deposit system, it is urged that a deposit prevents many books from being destroyed by carelessness. It is stated also that a large number of pupils leaving the school and the city often take these books with them, and some means should be taken to prevent this loss. McBride said that upon receiving word from the attorney general of the state, action would probably be taken to return the money. No action will be taken, however, until this is received.

NAME U. S. OFFICIAL IN WHISKEY SCANDAL

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—Existence of a liquor ring, alleged to have operated here and in the east under protection of federal officials, was being investigated today.

That an employee of the internal revenue commission office here was given a bribe of $30,000 for forging a permit allowing a shipment of $125,000 worth of whiskey from Louisville to Chicago, was charged in a confession alleged to have been made by H. A. Sadler, New York broker. The confession implicated officials of a Louisville distillery and many saloon keepers here. Sadler, according to the reported confession, also obtained permits in New York City by paying $500 to an insurance broker.

INSANITY PROBE FOR KIDNAPING CONFESSOR

MORRISTOWN, Pa., Oct. 13.—Magistrate Lenhardt indicated today a lunacy commission may be appointed to investigate the mental condition of August Pasquale, confessed kidnapper and slayer of Baby Blakely Coughlin.

The various confessions made by Pasquale are considered symptoms of a disordered mind. Meanwhile, search for the infant's body continued. Police were investigating Pasquale's statement that he was the slayer of Rose A. Sherman, 80, in Philadelphia 24 hours before the Coughlin kidnapping.

FARM SCHOOL HERE?

It can't be done this year, and possibly not next year, but before long Santa Ana High School ought to have a strong farm department.

Situated in the best horticultural and agricultural county in the state, there is no reason why Santa Ana cannot have an agricultural department that would make the school distinctive. That is, there is no reason excepting the will and the money.

A few years ago an agricultural department was started, but it fell by the wayside. The instructor got an offer of higher salary elsewhere, and he left. It was a hard year financially for the high school, some curtailments in expenses were necessary, and the educator's ax fell on the farmer's son.

As we remember it, there was some criticism of the department the year that it was conducted, criticism that was based on the fact that the courses given were too elemental in character to appeal to the average farmer boy of this county. Raised on a farm, he was really ready for advanced courses. The boys showed very little interest in the department.

Why not, then, in the junior college provide advanced courses? Why not give our farmer boy the instruction he would get at an agricultural college?

The tendency of schools in recent years to add fad courses has been quite roundly condemned time and again.

Some of these courses were, indeed, fads, while others were instituted by way of adjustment of schools to fit the general demand that the schools make themselves of more practical value than they had been. In California great strides have been made toward the desired end of making the schools fit the needs of the communities. Santa Ana High School, for instance, while endeavoring to fit its students for university work has consciously tried to make itself an institution of practical worth to the student who can go no further in school than the high school.

In attaining its aim of usefulness, what department in Santa Ana High School could be of more practical usefulness to the future citizen of this county than would be an efficient farm department?

The question is one well worth the consideration of our school authorities, next year if not this year. It has already been discussed at the Farm Bureau office, where the opinion is held that a good farm department at Santa Ana High School, headed by an energetic, capable agricultural school man, would prove of incalculable value to the county.

"Orange county people have very often discussed the question, 'How are we going to keep the boy on the farm?' said Farm Advisor Wahlberg. "Many answers have been given, for there are many reasons why boys are leaving the farms. One answer worth considering is this: 'A farm department in every high school.'"

It is too late to start a farm department in our high school this year, and there is no money now available for it, but why not start it next year with a man at the head of the department big enough and enthusiastic enough to make it what it ought to be?

LOGICAL VOTING

Today we are in the midst of a campaign, approaching an election at which the people of the United States will have an opportunity to elect a president and a congress of the same persuasion. The machinery of government will run much more smoothly if the president and congress are in accord than it will if they differ. Concerning that point there is no argument.

Orange county is going to cast a very strong Republican vote. Of that there is no doubt. Republicans expect it, and Democrats concede it. The vote of the county should be just as strong for Samuel M. Shortridge for United States Senator and for Phil D. Swing for congressman as for Warren G. Harding for president.

The people of Orange county, on November 2, should vote logically.

The sensible course for a voter to take is to make his choice for president, and vote not only for him, but also for men who will assist him in carrying his policies into effect.

Conservative political estimates from all over the country indicate that Warren G. Harding is going to be elected president. Why, then, should California, with much at stake, send a single opponent of his to congress? Why vote for the head of the ticket and then attempt to tie his hands by voting for someone who, if elected, will go to Washington and do his best to block the things that the president will try to do?

Statistics given out by the Department of Commerce show that imports to this country from foreign lands is increasing while our exports are decreasing. The imports during eight months of this year totaled $3,995,178,000, as against $2,261,510,000. California farmers and orchardists naturally are wondering how much of these increasing imports are represented by such items as lemons, walnuts, beans and rice.

A good many people seem to want a twentieth amendment prohibiting prohibition enforcement.

Hands Together

Fresno Republican

Those people from the attorney general of the United States down who figure on putting the machinery of government into operation to prevent farmers' co-operative associations from functioning may have the dead hand of the law on their side, (although that is to be doubted), but they do not have any of the spirit of modern productive industrialism. For the amalgamation of producing interest is going on apace. Productive association is increasing for the benefit of the producer, rather than for either the producer or the consumer. It is recognized that the raisins, the wheat, the cotton or wool is the thing that both the producer and the consumer is interested in, and that this interest is heightened by increasing the quality and reducing the expense of the output. Questions of monopoly, of restraint of trade, of inequitable prices, of favoritism can be adjusted or corrected, and the penal laws have their proper relationships to such adjustment. But the primary business of the producers' co-operative association is to make better and cheaper wheat, better butter, to put raisins on the table for the housewife in Maine throughout the year as serviceably as possible with as regular a return to the grower in central California as possible. Any interference with this function of producers' association must account itself strictly to public opinion.

Co-operative dairy associations in Canada are setting a high standard of service for themselves and advertising it freely to their customers. They are not ashamed of their co-operation—they are proud of it, and make this pride evident to every eater of association butter in Canada. They want better to be known as "Co-operative." The co-operative association does not have to hide its "merry character" either from the statutes or from the organs of publicity. They have a reason for existence to lawmakers and law bearers alike.

Good Point For Law

Riverside Press

Senator S. C. Evans is spending the month of October campaigning for the community property law; and the Press knows of no more effective reason that can be named for supporting the law than this fact.

Mr. Evans was a member of the legislature that passed this law; and with the thoroughness that always marks his action in such matters he made a very careful investigation of its provisions and improved every opportunity to hear arguments for and against it. In the end he gave his unqualified support to the measure as an act of justice to the mothers of the state that had been long delayed. After the law was suspended by referendum, Mr. Evans again made a careful review of its provisions, and of the objections raised to it. In the end he reached the same conclusion that he did in the legislature and is now actively campaigning in behalf of the approval of the law which is on the ballot under a referendum.

The Press does not know of a man in the state whose judgment it would accept more readily on this law than that of S. C. Evans. He is a husband and father, but in addition to that he is a man of large property interests, and wide business connections. He is satisfied that the law works no hardship on business interests and does no injustice to the husband who is an equal partner with the wife in the community property. The voters of Riverside county may very safely follow the advice of Senator Evans and vote to approve this law.

Denounces Tia Juana

Long Beach Press

The recent denunciations of vice conditions at Tia Juana by influential bodies here in California deserve considerable attention. The recent Methodist Episcopal district conference went on record as strongly antagonizing conditions and influences down there and calling for their suppression. Comes now the State Federation of Labor, in session at Fresno, with a resolution which was adopted with but one dissenting vote, condemning Tia Juana as a "hell hole" and calling upon the state department at once to negotiate a treaty with Mexico for eradicating the vices of the border city "insofar as they affect this country."

These denunciations, one from a religious, the other from an industrial organization, deserve respectful and favorable consideration. Tia Juana is malodorous morally. Its vices flourish and have led and are leading many of the residents of this state to moral damnation. It is a disgrace to our country and for responsible organizations and individual citizens to protest these conditions and to move for their suppression.

Get a Home To Live In

San Francisco Chronicle

The time to secure a home is when you can do it. It matters little whether prices are going up or going down. You get a home.

But we do not build a home as a money-making operation. What we are after is a home which is our own, in which we can settle down and feel that we are part of the community, and can read with indifference the schedule of rates of the moving vans.

There are those who get a notion that it is cheaper to pay rent than to own a home. It is not. The old saw that three moves are as bad as a fire has a solid foundation in truth. And if you pay rent you will pay it to produce income on buildings erected at present costs, so what is the difference? But whether you think you will make or lose money by getting a home at this time, get a home anyhow. If it suits you and you can pay for it, it makes little difference whether you can sell for more or less than it cost. You do not get a home to sell, but to live in.

Worth While Verses

MY OWN

Oh, I must answer to a name
And live upon a certain street.
And stairs within a dingy house
Must bear the burden of my feet.

Still, when the night is dim and sweet,
In dreams I roam the silent hills;
Where aisles of shadow, vague with light,
Are petaled soft with daffodils.

I foot it through the silver dark,
I shout aloud to field and tree;
And all this gypsy heart of me
Is longing, longing to be free.

Oh, I must answer to a name
And live upon a certain street;
But who shall take my dreams from me—
Or keep my life from being sweet!
—Harold Vinal, in Contemporary Verse.

TODAY'S TALK

By George Matthew Adams

PUBLIC SERVICE.

All over the country there are significant signs that blaze their message through the night. They are always on the job. And this is the main statement that their electric bulbs carry:

PUBLIC SERVICE!
In addition to these two words, many of the signs say: "Light and Power."

I never see one of these signs but what I say that I would like to have a sign like that right over my heart where everybody could see it.

PUBLIC SERVICE—Light and Power!
What a wonderful lot of people we would all be if we would each immediately be recognized as contributors to the world—public servants with light and power in our hearts and minds—free to all who might desire of us! We can never render too much service. We can never give too much light in a world that gets very dark at times. We ought to be glad to distribute what power we possess at the weak may learn and grow.

Our little lives are much like the incandescent electric lights which burn in our homes each night.
So that it is very important that we keep the bulbs of our greatest selves ever new—ready to gleam light across dark paths for unsteady feet and inspire power in hearts that ache!

Alaska, Neglected Land

Oakland Tribune

Fifty-three years ago this month which the government has handled the United States, despite warnings of reckless extravagance, spent $7,200,000 less than that needed now to buy a battleship, and acquired Alaska of the Russians. It has been a great and abused bargain.

It was only when Alaska held out promise for the rapid attainment of wealth, or when a Gifford Pinchot or other conservationist cried aloud for the needs of laws to keep out development on any large scale, that Alaska has attracted momentary attention.

In those 53 years Alaska has swollen and shrunk with each gold scare. There are today 20,000 whites there and 23,000 Indians, and that means not quite as many inhabitants, as when Russia turned the territory over to the United States. The resources in spite of the large amount by red tape methods of a government 6000 miles away from Alaska, are tremendous, the opportunities are unlimited, and yet the population has been dwindling.

Perhaps the answer to the Alaskan question lies with the manner in which the government has handled its affairs. There are five departments and 15 bureaus, to say nothing of the titular government in Alaska, and all except the governor, are attending to its business from desks in Washington. Governor Riggs, who is given a salary of $6000 a year, has to spend it all to maintain his house and so, in a way, is lucky for there is nothing for him to do that might involve railroad or traveling expenses. There are coal and oil in the country but it imports both. Some of the best harbors are open the year around but the world believes they are tied up by ice in the winter. Its reindeer herds have increased from less than 1500 in 1892 to over 160,000 and could afford an answer to the meat problem at home and on the lower Pacific coast. Caribou and mountain sheep roam by the thousands, and even the coyote, unmoored, is at hand to attack and devour.

The neglect of Alaska cannot continue indefinitely but there are few indications that there will be any relief from the present administration.

NEW YORK.—Following the receipt of bomb warnings, the New York custom house is now closely guarded by U. S. Coast Guards, armed with rifles. Everyone entering the building is questioned and all packages are opened. Even the girl in this picture was halted and her knitting bag inspected by the guard!

Can We Name Them

San Diego Union

A San Francisco newspaper is conducting a "voting contest" to determine two candidates for statues in the National Hall of Statuary in Washington—a sort of primary election to the Scroll of Fame, so to speak.

Thus far the name of Junipero Serra, like that of Abou ben Adhem "leads all the rest." The question arises, however, as to the eligibility of San Diego's first citizen of historic fame. The federal act providing for Statuary Hall authorizes the president "to invite each and all the states to provide and furnish statues in marble or bronze, not exceeding two in number for each state, of deceased persons who have been citizens thereof, and illustrious for their historic renown or for distinguished civic or military service, such as each state shall deem worthy of this national commemoration." Junipero Serra was a subject of Spain, California was a province of the Spanish empire. There is no doubt that historically the founder of the first mission in California, and the forerunner of Christian civilization on this western coast, entitled to a statue of bronze or marble in an American temple of fame; but the wording of this particular act would seem to bar him from Statuary Hall. He was a "citizen" of California, but California was not a "state" of the American union. If, however, any of the Pilgrim Fathers or the early colonists or discoverers and explorers of other regions within our boundaries have admitted to the American pantheon Father Junipero Serra is entitled to similar honor.

If Junipero Serra is admitted on the ground that he brought civilization to California, and was the original founder of this commonwealth, perhaps Juan Rodriguez Cabrillo, who discovered California, is eligible to the second place. Objections, however, might be made to the ancient Portuguese navigator on the plea that he merely explored the California coast, and that in fact his "discovery" of California was of no importance until Serra came, more than two centuries later; or until the region of his discovery was taken over by the Americans in 1848 and made a part of the United States. Cabrillo is a remarkable example of arrested fame. He was not a conquistador like Cortez and Pizarro; he was not an administrator like Serra or Bolivar; he was not a discoverer of unknown continents and oceans in the sense that we think of Columbus and Balboa. He was merely an explorer who did not act even under his own volition—an adventurer in the employ and under the direction of Hernando Cortez, himself subject to the King of Spain. Cabrillo would have lapsed into oblivion but for the event of subsequent history.

Aside from these two names it will be difficult to make a just decision concerning California's representative in the national hall of fame. No one person is pre-eminent among the citizens of California; but the greatest of these was not a native of California; all were transplanted from some other state, acquiring the place of their birth has equal claim for the honor of their achievement. It would be an invidious distinction, perhaps, to name any native of California deserving of a statue in the national hall of fame; the candidates would be numerous, but their accomplishment would not rank them as so superior that envy might not reach them even on their lofty pedestals. Count no man happy until he is dead, moralized an ancient philosopher; count no man famous until the contemporaneous reasons for his fame are forgotten, is a sane paraphrase of the old saying. A century hence, perhaps, California may name two famous Californians wholly eligible under the law for statues of bronze and marble in the national hall of fame, and otherwise unquestioned as to their right of pre-eminence.

How to Keep Farmers on the Job

Aaron Sapiro in Portland Oregonian

There are three chief things that the community expects from the farmer.

First—The community wants the farmer to keep on producing; wants him to increase production of food-stuffs.

Second—It wants the farmer to stay on the farm. It does not want the farmers to move into the cities, but it wants to be sure that there are enough men left to carry on the work of production.

Third—The community expects of the farmer that somehow or other the farmer will develop into a land owner, and that the United States will be dotted literally by millions of small farm owners, living on their own farms and owning their own working tools and producing.

The community wants the first thing because they want production, so that they can have something to eat. They want the second thing—that is, the farmer to stay on the farm—to insure production. They want the third thing—the creation of a large class of small land owners—as an insurance against a wild revolution in the country, because everybody knows that if you have ten million small land owners in America you will have stable government. You will have government that respects the right of property, if property has rights to respect.

In short, the community expects the farmer to do a whole lot that will mean something to the men in the cities. They expect the farmers to feed the cities, and they expect the farmers to keep down the revolution that might wipe out the banks and the commercial prosperity of the cities. Well, the farmer agrees with you. The farmer wants those things just the same as you do, but the farmer is wise enough to see that he can accomplish those three things only if he makes profits. He will increase production where he makes money on production and he will stay on the farm as long as the profits from his production are enough to enable him to live on the same standard as the man who lives in the city.

You cannot expect the young men and the young women on the farm to stick to the standard of 1860, when they know the standard of the city dweller of 1920. So the farmer says: "If you want me to stay on the farm and increase production you must not only help me make a profit on my production, but it must be such a profit as will enable me to have running water in my house; electric power in my house; as will enable me to keep my wife out of the field and let her do just simply the work in the house; as will enable me to send my boys and girls through high school; as will enable me to get recreation; as will enable me to keep up life insurance policies, and to live on the 1920 standards instead of the 1860 standards."

Then the farmer says: "If you expect me to own my place, you must not only make it possible for me to make profits, but you must make it possible for me to make a stabilized profit, so that I do not make a profit in the year 1917 and then lose that and more besides in the years 1918 and 1919."

MAN O' WAR RETIRES AFTER TAKING CROWN

WINDSOR, Ont., Oct. 13.—Man O' War, star three-year-old, today wore the crown of the king of the sport of kings.

The American thoroughbred reached the pinnacle of racing fame when he romped over the mile and a quarter Kenilworth track here yesterday, finishing seven lengths to the good against Sir Barton, Canadian four-year-old, owned by Commander J. K. L. Ross.

The race was the last Man O' War will run, according to Samuel Riddle, Philadelphia, owner. He will be used for breeding purposes.

Reports that Riddle planned to put the horse in the movies were not confirmed today.

Man O' War celebrated his winning by taking the first drink from the gold cup he won.

MRS. WARBURTON HURLS
DEFI IN BOOZE PROBE
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 13.—A woman's rage today was added to the already much involved investigation of the alleged irregularities in probi-tation enforcement in California.
The woman was Mrs. Gladys Kimball Warburton, who last week was discharged as state prohibition director. Mrs. Warburton had started for Washington, but she did not get beyond Ogden, Utah, and last night she stepped from a train here, announcing she was ready for a finish fight.

Wrs. Warburton made a long list of charges of alleged irregularities in the issuance of permits for the withdrawal of liquor from bonded warehouses and said she was anxious to tell the grand jury "the whole story."

While Mrs. Warburton was making her statement, Harry Brodsky, former mayor of Redondo Beach, Cal., now under arrest charged with conspiracy to violate the Volstead act, was issuing a statement asking whether any crime had been committed in the alleged withdrawal of 51 barrels of liquor from bond for the supposed purpose of entertaining delegates to the Democratic national convention.

Considerable interest is evidenced here in who will be named permanently to the office of prohibition director. John L. Considine, who succeeded Mrs. Warburton, had been a temporary appointment. William Humphreys, prominent Los Angeles man, was most frequently mentioned for the permanent appointment.

torneys Alexander Keyes and Her-they have instituted in behalf of

H. E. Stock, of Venice, Cal., a suit for $2,000,000 damages against Colorado and Arizona men, who, Stock declares, conspired to defraud him of his interest in the Success Locations in the Salt Creek oil field, said to be the richest in the world.

Stock, an oil driller, says he was tricked out of his holdings by Karl and Warren Schuyler, Colorado attorneys, whom he claims to have engaged to protect his interests. They induced him to sign away his rights, he asserts. Gov. Shoup, of Colorado, is charged in Stock's complaint with having acted as a "dummy" for the Schuylers and the companies involved.

Music Section Program
At the meeting of the Music Section of the Ebell held Monday at the home of Mrs. T. A. Winbiger, a very strong program was outlined by the chairman of the program committee, Mrs. H. M. Sammis, along with the future plans and ambitions of the club.

It has been decided that the work of the club this year will be a departure from that of the last two years, during which time American music and American composers have been studied exclusively.

This year an intensive study of the opera will be the special line to be followed. Grand opera will afterward be studied, and the opera program will be one of the chief features of interest in the year's work.

The program committee decided to omit the usual December program and instead has planned to combine its efforts with those of the Santa Ana Music Association, and assist in every way the organization of a great "community sing," believing that greater good will result from this unanimity of purpose. The program outlined is as follows:

Nov. "Mignon." Dec., joining with "music association." Jan., "Pinafore."
Feb., "Othello." March, "The Minion." April, surprise program.
May, "Barber of Seville." June, picnic.

There will be many pleasing features in the year's work, among them excerpts from the operas, tableaux, readings, etc.

Mrs. Padgham told of the advantages of joining the McDowell Club of Los Angeles, which is supported by the best musicians, who give their services free, the proceeds being used to help support the McDowell home at Peterborough, N. H.

After a short business meeting the club was charmingly entertained by Mrs. R. C. Sumner, Mr. and Mrs.
Rice and Geo. Phillips, with Miss Ruth Armstrong accompanying in the following numbers:

The Star, (vocal), James Rogers.
Wind Song, (vocal), James Rogers.
Now Sleep the Crimson Petal (vocal), R. Quilter.

Mrs. Sumner.
Reverie, (violin), Vienxtemps.
Lacosta, (violin), J. W. Rice.

J. W. Rice.
Till Dawn, (vocal), Gilbert Lowe.
Steadfast, (vocal), Robert Carvel.
Morning, (vocal), Oley Speaks.
To You, (vocal), Oley Speaks.

Mr. Geo. Phillips.
This delightful program was followed by a social hour and tea. All were very much encouraged with the outlook for the coming year. Several new members were added to the roll.

Charming Bridge Party
Mrs. Howard Timmons charmingly entertained a number of friends at a bridge party given at her home on North Broadway yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Arthur Lutz was awarded first prize, and the second went

Washington P. T. A. Meets
The Washington P. T. A. meeting interesting features of the meeting

Mabel McKinley—Niece of the Late President of the United States—Takes Nuxated Iron for Health and Strength And Says She Regards It as The Ideal Tonic For All Weak, Run-Down Nervous Women

Dr. George H. Baker, Formerly Physician and Surgeon at the Memorial Hospital at New Jersey, Explains Why Iron is One of the GREAT-EST OF ALL STRENGTH-BUILDERS

Says He has found nothing in his experience so effective for helping to make strong, healthy, red-blooded women as Nuxated Iron.

Every woman who wishes to possess health, strength and beauty, should carefully read the statement of Miss McKinley who, after her personal use of Nuxated Iron, tells of the results she obtained.

Miss McKinley says: "While I had often heard of Nuxated Iron I must admit that prior to using it I had no idea of its remarkable value for building up the health and strength. Following the strain imposed by months of the most exacting work singing for the soldiers in the various army encampments, together with my social engagements and charitable pursuits, I found myself in such a weakened, run-down state that I feared a complete collapse. It seemed utterly impossible for me to drop everything and go away for a complete rest, but I realized that as my condition was serious I must either do this or find something that would actually rebuild my waning strength and enable me to continue my activities."

"I had always been prejudiced against tonic preparations which, for the most part, I found only acted as a temporary stimulant and usually left one worse off than ever. However, when my own family physician insistently recommended that I give a fair trial to Nuxated Iron, I consented to begin its use, with the result that after a few days the weakness and exhaustion from which I suffered began to be replaced by a feeling of renewed strength and vitality. In less than three weeks' time my whole system was tingling with energy and power and I was overjoyed to find that I was once more in superb physical condition."

"Nuxated Iron has accomplished so much for me that I regard it as the ideal tonic for all weak, run-down women. As a strength and blood-builder, I am convinced that Nuxated Iron has no equal."

In commenting on Miss McKinley's statement, regarding the efficacy of Nuxated Iron, Dr. Ferdinand King, New York Physician and Medical Author, says: "It is my opinion that in practically nine times out of ten, run-down nerves and failing strength and vitality are due to deficiency of iron in the blood. Many a woman who is run-down, nervous and who quickly tires out, suffers from iron deficiency and does not know it. I am convinced that there are thousands of such women who, simply by taking Nuxated Iron, might readily build up their red blood corpuscles, increase their physical energy and get themselves back to vibrant and vigorous health. By enriching the blood and increasing its oxygen carrying power, Nuxated Iron will often transform the flabby flesh, toneless tissues, and pallid cheeks of nervous, run-down women into a glow of health, and make them look younger, within a surprisingly short time."

Among other physicians asked for an opinion was Dr. George H. Baker, formerly Physician and Surgeon at the Memorial Hospital, New Jersey, who says: "What women need is iron in their blood and the springtime of life into their step is not cosmetics or stimulating drugs but plenty of rich, pure blood. Without it no woman can do credit to herself or to her work. Iron is one of the greatest of all strength and blood-builders, and I have found nothing in my experience so effective for helping to make strong, healthy, red-blooded women as Nuxated Iron."

NURSE WORKING FOR RED CROSS

"If America is to be kept free from diseases common to aliens coming from all sections of Europe we must stem the tide of sickness at its source. We cannot combat it successfully in this country alone."

This was the statement made here today by Miss Flora L. Bradford, a registered nurse who is on a tour in behalf of the Fourth Annual Roll Call of the American Red Cross. She is working to increase the membership of the Red Cross in view of the roll call, which will be held between November 14 and 22.

While no complete program of speeches here has as yet been made for Miss Bradford, her present plans will allow her to stay until Saturday, and perhaps until Sunday, and plans are being made by numerous prominent organizations to hear her. Friday she will speak to the County Federation of Women's Clubs at Buena Park. The general topic on which Miss Bradford is speaking, is "The Red Cross at Home and Abroad."

Miss Bradford has had wide experience in her line, both before and during the war. Before the war she served as a nurse at Tiran, Persia, under the auspices of the Presbyterian Board of Missions. Twice she escaped by one day the cholera quarantine in Russia.

Miss Bradford has delivered numerous addresses in as many as eighteen states of the union during the past three years. She addressed the State Federation of Labor at its annual meeting at Fresno recently, and later addressed a large audience at Riverside.

She is expected to give several talks in the Santa Ana schools during the next few days, and if she remains until Sunday will probably address meetings at several of the churches. She is at present communicating with California Red Cross Headquarters in order to arrange her schedule so that she may stay over Sunday.

Her statement in connection with what she regards as the necessity of rooting out disease in Europe was made to point out the wide scope of the work of the Red Cross. Some of the greatest needs in the world can be met by that organization, she said.

TO ATTEND MEETING OF STATE COUNCIL

Mrs. A. J. Lawton of Santa Ana leaves tonight for San Francisco, where she will preside at the sessions of the Woman's Legislative Council of California. Plans for putting through the legislature the three measures upon which the council is concentrating its efforts will be discussed.

Mrs. Lawton was elected president of the state council a year ago, for a two-year term. The meeting in San Francisco is the council's annual meeting.

The three measures upon which the council is concentrating are: First, increasing the period in which orphans can receive state aid, raising the age limit from 15 years to 16 years; second, giving legal protection to boys under 18 years of age; third, fixing the minimum wage of elementary school teachers at $1200 a year.

An open meeting will be given to a discussion of the community property law, which was put through the last legislature as a council measure.

S. A. FOLK ATTEND CEREMONIAL AT L. A.

A number of members of the Church of the Messiah of this city today recalled incidents of the big ceremonial yesterday in Los Angeles in consecration of the Rt. Rev. William Bertrand Stevens, Ph. D., Bishop Coadjutor of Los Angeles.

Rev. W. L. H. Benton, rector of the local church, was first assistant master of ceremonies. Others in attendance at the ceremonies were C. S. Osborne, Mrs. J. W. Taylor, Mrs. M. L. Crisp, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Cornell, Miss Alice Parker, Miss Jean Battersby, Dr. Willa Waffle and Mrs. W. L. H. Benton.

"The ceremonies passed off very smoothly," said Rev. Benton today. "They were held at St. Paul's Pro-Cathedral. The Pro-Cathedral presented a picturesque appearance with the visiting bishops and clergymen wearing the bright colored hoods of their various dioceses."

"There were more than 200 in line wearing vestments, including ten bishops, choir boys and clergy. It is estimated that more than 1000 communicants of various churches of the diocese arose as the leaders filed through the throng."

"With Bishop Stevens, robed in the habit of postulant for the highest office of the three-fold ministry of the Protestant Episcopal church, leading the solemn procession entered the Pro-Cathedral singing a favorite processional hymn of the church."

Bishop Capers preached the sermon, discussing the subject, "The Witness of the Episcopate to the Gospel."

The consecration of Bishop Stevens was the first of its kind ever held in Los Angeles. A reception to the bishops in Los Angeles was held in the afternoon at the home of Mrs. Spencer Bishop.

PETALUMA, Cal., Oct. 13.—A total of 21,678,365 dozen eggs were produced in Petaluma, "the world's egg basket," from January 1 to October 1, according to estimates.

This number, equal to 722,612 cases, covers all eggs used for hatcheries, for local consumption and shipped elsewhere. This represents an increase of 30 per cent over the same period last year.

FRENCHMAN PUTS LEVINSKY AWAY

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—Georges Carpentier has vied his passport to a fight with Champion Jack Dempsey. He sealed the document last night with a right hand blow to the chin of Battling Levinsky, veteran light heavyweight, in the fourth round of their match in Jersey City. Levinsky was knocked out.

Carpentier won his first American fight as a batter not as a boxer. He constantly attempted to draw Levinsky into attacking by dropping his arms but the cautious Battler was content to let Georges do all the leading.

Levinsky's blows were delivered while in retreat and the Frenchman disregarded them. He tore in at full speed, flailing wildly with both hands. In the fourth Carpentier drove Levinsky to the ropes, battering at the upraised arms protecting the American's face. Finally Carpentier drove a straight right through with the full power of his body behind the blow. Levinsky slumped down in a corner, one foot overhanging the ring and dangling from the ropes.

TRIAL IS POSTPONED.

The trial of William Smith, of Palo Verde Valley, held on a charge of misdemeanor for having, it is alleged, contributed to the delinquency of a minor, was postponed by Superior Judge R. Y. Williams until Nov. 23. It had been understood that Smith planned to enter a plea of guilty this morning, and the judge had been notified that it would not be necessary to call a jury. On appearing in court this morning, however, Smith did not change his plea to guilty. Hence it was necessary to postpone the case. A. E. Koepf is Smith's attorney.

CONTINUE HUNT FOR BOOZE AUTO

Officers throughout California today continued their search for A. W. Thompson, Venice taxicab driver, who escaped from federal officers at El Toro early yesterday and made his way out of Orange county, by way of the Aliso grade and Santiago canyon, in a high-powered automobile alleged to contain a cargo of liquor worth a big sum.

The arrest of Thompson and Geo. Wood, the latter proprietor of a cafe at Venice, was believed today to be the first in a campaign instituted by Arthur O. Kriete, federal prohibition enforcement officer for Southern California, to cut down smuggling of liquor into California by way of Tia Juana and other Mexican border points. Kriete's offices are in Los Angeles.

As the authorities today continued the lookout for Thompson, they expressed the belief that the driver of the alleged whiskey running car would try to destroy any incriminating evidence his machine may have contained.

At Venice, where Thompson lives, it was stated he has been questioned a number of times by prohibition officers. One of Thompson's drivers was convicted of a charge of obtaining whiskey for one of his passengers, it was said.

Efforts made Monday night by federal officers at Venice to locate Thompson were unsuccessful, it was declared. Thompson and Atwood, according to reports did not tell even their most intimate friends where they were going. It was recalled that both men had been absent on mysterious missions on previous occasions.

Regarding the cargo of contraband liquor alleged to have been discovered in Thompson's machine, information that it was worth $20,000 or more came from federal authorities in Los Angeles. Despite the fact that the machine is reported to have contained sixty-five gallons of creme de menthe, which it is said is bootlegged at $1 a drink, in addition to various other liquors, including whiskey, the appraisal of the cargo seems high.

TRY PAIR ONCE HELD IN MURDER

Charged with disturbing the peace, after having been originally arrested on suspicion of complicity in the murder of Ignacio Guerrero at Westminster on the night of Sunday, September 12, Rafael Moreno and Andreas Luna were scheduled to go to trial today before a jury in the court of Justice John B. Cox.

Guerra was found murdered near the scene of a Mexican dance at which liquor was said to have flown freely. A beet knife was found near Guerra's body. There were marks on the body indicating that the man had been both beaten and stabbed.

In the investigation that followed both Moreno and Andreas Luna were arrested. Evidence linking them to the actual commission of the murder was lacking, however.

When arraigned in justice court on September 17 on the peace disturbance charge, Moreno and Luna entered pleas of not guilty and demanded trial by jury. In default of $200 bail each, they were remanded to the county jail.

Though Under Sheriff E. E. French has continued to work on the Guerra murder case, no clues as to the identity of the murderer have been found.

SCOUT LEADER ARRIVES HERE

Elmer Heidt, recently appointed scout executive for the Orange County Boy Scouts, arrived here last night, and is ready to jump enthusiastically into the work of the Boy Scouts in this county.

He left today for Riverside, where he will be for two days with Field Representative Miller of the National Boy Scout organization. His work in Orange county will start on Friday of this week.

Heidt made a very pleasing impression upon the members of the Boy Scout council, with whom he talked today. M. B. Wellington, president, and S. J. Cornell, commissioner, of the council, went over with him preliminary plans for his work. Heidt's first work will be to put a number of troops that are not active now upon their feet.

"I am very enthusiastically in favor of Boy Scout work," said Heidt. "That is why I am in it. It offers a wonderful field for service."

FAMOUS AUTOGRAPHS IN NATION'S LIBRARY

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—Uncle Sam is no specially interested in autographs, but in this big library at Washington he has a good many letters and papers signed by some of his most distinguished nephews. All these manuscripts, which were not well cared for until a few years ago, are now intelligently classified and preserved. There are 25,000 documents of importance. The Washington papers are the most valuable. They include documents written and received by the first President, and reports from the secret service agents during the Revolution, letters from Rochambeau and state papers.

The John Jay Jones papers fill eight volumes of the special kind of letter file in which the national collection is arranged. There are thirty-five volumes containing the proceedings of the commission formed for inquiring into the losses, services and claims of American loyalists. Another interesting colonial relic is of much earlier date, the record of the Virginia Company, covering the years of 1619 to 1624.

New England is well represented. Mayor Peter Force of Washington sold his great collection to the government. The West is represented by the literary remains of Schoolcraft, secretary to General Lewis Cass, and some papers and letters of Cass himself.

Uncle Sam has also the letter books of President Monroe, kept while he was our Minister at London, the papers of General John Sullivan, the letter books of General Nathaniel Greene and the papers of Colonel Ephraim Baine.

Persons planning to manufacture dry wines for home use will be required to make a declaration of their intentions and furnish information concerning the quantity they intend to produce before starting operations, Wardell said. All such declarations are to be made to the collector of internal revenue at San Francisco.

HANDEDNESS IS SAVANT'S TOPIC

The first meeting of the Book Review club for the year was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Neely, in Tustin. In the absence of the president, A. P. Crookshank, the meeting was called to order by A. B. Gardner, who introduced the speaker of the evening, Dr. W. F. Jones, of the University of Southern California. Dr. Jones spoke on the subject, "A Laboratory Study in Handedness" and gave an exceedingly interesting and convincing talk on the right of the left-handed child to use that hand without interference.

There have been three theories on the subject of handedness. First, that the individual acquired the habit of using the left hand by accident and there was no scientific reason for its use; second, that certain individuals are born with a tendency to use the left hand and that this tendency should not be interfered with; third, that individuals are naturally bilateral and that the power to use both hands should be cultivated.

Experiments, Dr. Jones said, show the third theory to be unsound. The second theory seems to be sustained by the evidence of measurements upon the bones of the arms and hands of several thousands of cases including still born babies and elderly people.

In 98 per cent of the cases the measurements showed that the bones of the right arm and hand were larger, evidence that the individual was born right handed. The measurements of the remaining 2 per cent showed that the bones of the left hand and arm were larger than those of the right and the left arm was the major arm.

The serious problem of the left and right handedness arises from the fact that the speech centers of the left handed person are located in the right lobe of the brain and in the case of a right-handed person they are located in the left lobe. There are four of these centers, first the auditory speech center, developed in the child during the first year; second, the center controlling muscle of the tongue, developed after the first year; third, the optic motor center; fourth, the graphic or writing center, developed about the eighth year.

These centers should lie in proximity and if, after the first three have developed, the fourth is developed in the opposite lobe of the brain, which is the case when a left-handed child is forced to use the right hand, there cannot be unity of purpose.

The result is a disturbance of the entire nervous system of the child and particularly a disturbance of the speech centers. This leads in a large number of cases to stammering or stuttering. Sixty per cent of the stammerers examined were cases of transference of power from the major arm supported by the minor arm to the minor arm either from an accident or a deliberate attempt to force a child to use his right arm when he was born left handed.

A second result of the transference of the normal activity of the major arm to the minor is the loss of manual skill. Finished skill is the product of the best activity of the major arm supported by the minor. In a case of transference the skill of the minor arm may be equal to that of the major, but in no case does it equal that which might have been attained by training the major arm.

TORNADO DAMAGE IN CHICAGO ON INCREASE

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—Damage done by the tornado which visited Chicago suburbs last March amounted to $243,633.87, according to the report of Mayor Thompson's tornado relief committee just made public.

Of the $70,050.36 collected by the committee, $68,354.36 was turned over to the Red Cross, the report says.

COTTON GROWERS ORGANIZE.

BRAWLEY, Oct. 13.—H. A. Heston was made chairman of the local branch of the Arizona-American Egyptian Cotton Growers' Association, while W. L. Rutherford was elected vice chairman and W. H. Best secretary. Charles M. Morgan explained some of the advantages of the marketing association and about the only regret expressed was that the cotton must be shipped to New Orleans instead of to Los Angeles in the event the grower wishes to take advantage of the financial aid provided members which gives them $75 a bale on short staple and $200 a bale on Pima.

French Medical Men In Big Claim for Pure-Blooded Parisians

PARIS, Oct. 13.—Parisians—that is, Parisian of pure-blood, whose families have resided at Paris for generations are rapidly developing physical characteristics that distinguish them from everybody who isn't pure-blooded Parisian.

What's more, Messrs. Marie and MacAuliffe, who have just contributed the above information to the French Academy of Medicine, have unblushingly added the deduction—being themselves pure-blooded Parisians—that this new physical type which Paris is producing represents the highest type of civilized man. Climate, French culture, French cooking, French wine—in fact, everything that goes to make up French-Parisian life—have contributed to cause these changes in the physical aspects of the real Parisian.

According to Messrs. Marie and MacAuliffe, these changes are as follows:

1.—Increase in cranial capacity—that is, actual development of a larger cranium (and not mere swell-head.)

2.—Decrease in the length of the arms and legs.

3.—Increase in the heights of the bust.

4.—Discoloration of the eye.

5.—Gradual change in the color of the hair to paler and lighter tints.

6.—Ever increasing number of microcephalous (whatever that is.)

This new physical type that Paris produces is scientifically classified as the cerebral type of man.

However it is admitted that it requires several generations at Paris before one begins to reap this higher type of development so there is no reason why American tourists should include it in one of the advantages they expect to get out of a three weeks' trip to Europe.

The association was urged by the committee to seek to allay unrest and discontent among farming elements and to dignify the farming business by obtaining recognition of its importance.

Angel Duarte, the Mexican held in connection with the attack upon Miss Florence Hammel at Anaheim Thursday evening, was to be taken to Los Angeles this afternoon by Officer Carr, where he was to be grilled as to his movements the day in question by Joe Sepulveda, a special officer of the Los Angeles police department.

Sepulveda is said to have thorough knowledge of Mexican criminals on the Pacific coast, and to be an expert in examining them. Some of his past experiences have been in questioning Duarte through an interpreter.

It was considered possible that Duarte would break down and confess this afternoon under Sepulveda's questioning. Many discrepancies are alleged to have been found in Duarte's stories thus far.

DANIELS COMMENTS
RODMAN AND WILSON

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Secretary Daniels wrote Admiral Wilson and Admiral Rodman, commanding officers of the Atlantic and Pacific fleets, respectively, commending them on the "marked progress in efficiency" of both fleets, as shown by an analysis of gunnery and engineering exercises during the last fiscal year.

Despite the high percentage of recruit personnel, the secretary wrote, improvement in gunnery practice by the Atlantic Fleet had produced a "high state of battle efficiency."

The fleet, he said, showed "progressive improvement" in both gunnery and engineering performance.

NEW COMPLAINT IN RANGE CASE

The cross-complaint of the county in the case of the Dean Hardware company of Fullerton, against the Union District high school of Fullerton, has been taken under consideration by Superior Judge Z. B. West. The hardware company is suing for $300 which it alleges is due it on a sale of two gas ranges to the high school cafeteria building.

The cross-complaint was entered by the county, through Deputy District Attorney A. P. Nelson, asking $6000 damages from the hardware company for alleged negligence in the fulfillment of the contract owing to imperfect installation of the ranges.

The cross-complaint states that the ranges were purchased from the company with the agreement that they be installed in the cafeteria and be put in good working order. It is alleged that the installation was imperfect, in that the ranges were installed within two inches of a wooden partition, and that one of the burners was turned down instead of up, causing the wood to catch fire, and the building to burn down, resulting in damage to the amount of $6900.

Attorney Nelson's cross-complaint was objected to by the attorneys for the hardware company on the ground that it did not plead on the original allegation of the hardware company.

PLAYERS' BODY FORMS TONIGHT

It was expected today that a large number of those dramatically inclined would be present this evening at the music room of the high school, where plans will be discussed looking toward the formation of a Community Players' Association.

The aim of the organization, according to announcement, will be to provide for the community wholesome entertainment which will be an expression of its people. The organization will not be confined to the drama students of the high school, but will aim to include those of the community, older people especially, who have talent along dramatic lines. It will aim to furnish an outlet for the enthusiasm of those who yearn to express themselves.

The organization will not aim to be professional, nor to train anyone for the stage. The plays will not be produced for gain, or money, and no one connected with the organization will benefit financially by the plays produced.

"The only requirements," said Ernest Crozier Phillips, "are sincerity of purpose and a wholesome spirit of co-operation in making the theater a 'house of vision' where no one shall work for money, and no one shall work for fame, but each for the joy of the working."

The tentative draft of the organization's plans calls for ten committees, each one of which will handle some special phase of the work.

COX, MARTLAND SPEAK TONIGHT

The court code of Justice of the Peace J. B. Cox will be outlined by him before members of the Orange County Automobile Trades Association at a meeting to be held tonight at James'.

Robert M. Martland, secretary of the state association, also is scheduled to speak.

Justice Cox is held in high esteem by the craftsmen of the county because of the impartial manner in which he deals justice. The craftsmen commend particularly Justice Cox's handling of the cases of those auto drivers who, by disregarding the speed regulations, jeopardize the lives of others who may be traveling on the boulevards at the time.

Martland is very popular with the tradesmen and announcement he will visit the association always is hailed with delight. He invariably brings a message of excellent business morality and has a faculty of presenting his message in a manner both entertaining and interesting.

It was originally planned to hold the meeting on the next regular meeting night, Friday. However, in view of the fact that Martland was to be here today and that the state convention for the southern district is to be held in Los Angeles Friday

Republican Party Stand On Tariff Is Discussed

By Col. Winfield Jones—Special Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Little attention seems to be paid so far in this political campaign to the tariff question. Every student of American history and economics knows that upon the tariff, one way or the other, depends in a great measure the prosperity of the United States and the welfare and happiness of the people.

It is a basic proposition, which cannot be disputed, that this country has prospered exceedingly under high or protective tariff systems, during Republican administrations, and has correspondingly failed to prosper with free trade or a "tariff for revenue only" under Democratic administrations.

The Democratic party is committed in this campaign to a low tariff policy. Its platform says: "We reaffirm the traditional policy of the Democratic party in favor of a tariff for revenue only."

and Saturday, the date was advanced.

Tonight's meeting will begin at 7:45. What with both Justice Cox and "Bob" Martland on the program, members of the organization are looking forward to a session that will be both lively and profitable. A record attendance is expected.

President Wilson, in stating his fourteen peace terms to Congress, demanded: "The removal, so far as possible, of all economic barriers and the establishment of an equality of trade conditions among all nations consenting to the peace and associating themselves for its maintenance." The President there declared, openly and without disguise, for a free trade policy—a kind of soviet world trade arrangement.

Where Danger Lies

It was a positive declaration by the President that the United States, in its treaty of peace, must guarantee to Europe free trade with the United States without any tariff safeguards whatever to protect the American business man, manufacturer, farmer and laborer from foreign competition in home markets. No one can deny if the tariff bars are completely swept away when peace is finally signed, that the European nations with their cheaper labor, will be able to completely dominate markets for many manufactured goods in the United States that are now supplied by American manufacturers. American products would be driven out of the home markets and American manufacturers put out of business, with unemployment to American labor following.

The American manufacturer, with the higher wages he pays to American labor than is paid in European countries, cannot compete with Europe if the products are admitted duty free, as President Wilson wants them admitted, or with a small tariff for "revenue only." The same conditions would prevail concerning the competition of all other nations of the world, particularly Japan, because in Japan labor is the poorest paid in the world.

So well do the people of the United States understand the tariff question that the Republican party has never been defeated on a tariff issue when it presented that issue squarely to the electorate.

Free trade, absolute and complete, or a low tariff, with all its tremendous economic ills, looms for the next four years, if the Democrats win in November.

G. O. P. Platform

The National Republican platform says: "The Republican party reaffirms its belief in the protective principles and pledges itself to a revision of the tariff as soon as conditions shall make it necessary for the preservation of the home market for American labor, agriculture and industry."

The issue is clear cut between the two parties on this question. The voter must choose in November whether he wants prosperity in a declared Republican protective tariff policy, or low wages, and a poorer scale of living, or no wages, which will surely follow foreign competition under a declared Democratic tariff policy.

A Republican president and a Republican Congress, elected in November, would be a guarantee to the people that there would be no free trade disaster, no bread lines, no business failures, and none of the other tremendous economic ills that have invariably followed inauguration of a "tariff for revenue only" policy.

Canadian Policy

Our neighbor, Canada, is preparing to inaugurate a protective tariff policy much stronger than has heretofore prevailed in the dominion. A statement submitted recently to the Canadian Tariff commission by the Canadian Manufacturers' association declared that "Canada cannot relinquish her policy of protective tariff, but must build upon it with an aim to advance Canada toward her destiny as a fully developed nation." Even Mexico is preparing to establish a protective tariff to foster home industries.

One aftermath of the world war has been a general strengthening of tariff walls of all the leading nations. Every European country is protecting its labor, industry, and agriculture with stiff tariffs. The United States must do likewise or suffer exceedingly in competition with the manufacturers of these countries, which are conducted with cheap labor, living on a scale of wages that the American laboring man cannot exist upon under any circumstances.

'PURITY SQUAD' CLUB WILL MEET

The Purity Squad Club, at James' tonight, will hold its first meeting, with a banquet as the feature.

The club is composed of the men who were appointed to have charge of the Merchants and Manufacturers picnic programmed at first for yesterday, Oct. 12. After the committee had developed plans to the point of appointing working teams to go out and get the money, the picnic was called off, it was said, because of objection on the part of a few business men.

That social relations developed by frequent meetings of the committee might be continued the members formed what they decided to call the Purity Squad Club. There are thirteen members.

Meetings are to be held on the thirteenth of every month. When the date falls on Friday the club will indulge in some special program, which might take the nature of a dinner and theater party in Los Angeles, a visit to the Orange county park or an evening at some beach.

The club treasury was started with thirteen cents, by each member contributing a penny.

It is expected that at tonight's meeting plans will be developed for making some committee responsible for a program at each meeting.

STATE FERTILIZER EXPERT CALLED

COUNTY OUT FOR PRIZE OF $500 OFFERED AT RIVERSIDE

Farm Bureau Committee Arranges Attractive Exhibit at Fair

Big Success Seen for All Departments in Big So. California Show

Orange county is in the ring for the $500 prize offered for the best county displays at the Southern California fair starting tomorrow at Riverside.

At the close of the County fair at Huntington Beach the farm bureau committee was busy far into the night and over Sunday packing the products that are now on display at Riverside. A splendid showing is there, consisting of the very best that Orange county can produce and a tasty and artistic display has been made. H. B. Woodruff, Murray Horne, and D. W. McDonald are putting forth their best efforts to bring the trophy home.

The Southern California fair at Riverside will be on in full blast tomorrow. It will far surpass anything of the kind ever produced in the State of California, with the exception of the State fair at Sacramento, and in some departments even the state fair is to be eclipsed, it is promised.

The livestock show is a wonderful assemblage of blooded animals of every kind and breed. The fair association has doubled its capacity for this year's show and every pen and stall is filled. There are more than 200 racing horses and 100 rig horses on exhibit, as well as 400 cattle; 500 hogs; 260 goats; 1200 poultry, and 200 rabbits.

The display of industries and manufactured products in the big top is most attractive, the leading firms of the south being represented.

The agricultural display far exceeds that of last year, which was said to be the best ever seen in this section of the state. Five counties, including Orange, outside of Riverside are making exceptional exhibitions of their land products. In Riverside county fifteen communities are contesting for the handsome prizes offered for community display.

Many Goats Shown
The show of milk goats exceeds the effort of last year when the assemblage of goats was the greatest ever shown at any fair. This year

50 Tustin Boys, Girls Prepare to Launch New Agricultural Club

That each of the approximately fifty boys and girls of Tustin and vicinity, who are starting an agricultural club, buy a pig and prepare to launch their organization on October 23, is the advice being given by Assistant Farm Advisor R. J. Waters.

The youngsters have applied for registration cards with a view to enrolling in the Agricultural Club. When these cards are signed and mailed to the Club Leader at Berkeley the contestants will be forwarded full directions.

SOME IMPROVEMENTS SINCE GOOD OLD DAYS

The mellow golden glow of those "good old days" is somewhat dissipated by the actual figures, according to the Dean of the College of Agriculture, who says:

"Formerly it was customary to market beavers at four years of age, now two years is the usual age. Half as many steers on pasture now will furnish the same number to the packers annually as was required fifty years ago. In 1840 the average fleece per sheep in the United States was less than 2 lbs., while it is now more than 6 lbs."

In 1850 all the cheese in the United States was made in the farm house; in 1870 all the butter was still made there. Both in time and human energy the reduction in butter making has been an hundred fold. What would butter cost if made according to methods in vogue fifty years ago?

HERE'S EXPERT 'DOPE' ON BALANCED RATION

Have you ever stopped to figure out just what force is at play in the production of a record breaking animal? Of course, on the spur of the moment, you say a well-balanced ration. Now, you have in mind the work of chemists and experts on nutrition with regard to protein, carbohydrates, fat, mineral matter, and water properly proportioned to produce health, growth, development, and finally large profits. Then, too, in later years you will also add that vitamins play a very important role. And yet even the vitamin content of a balanced ration is not the sole criterion to go by.

How many modern feeders do you suppose possess a scientific knowledge of balanced rations? Those who are making the world sit up and take notice with their record breaking animals exerted that practical application which takes into consideration rations, vitamins, brains, and then some.

This "then some" is nothing more than putting yourself into the work heart and soul, in other words, the California Division of Animal Industries suggests that you add to your vitamins, and brains a large portion of kind treatment at all times.

FARM CLUB BOYS DEVELOPS DUST AT DAVIS FOR BIG CONCLAVE TO AID WAR ON CITRUS APHIS

Youngsters Will Camp Out During Three Days of Convention

Two Orange county boys, accompanied by Assistant Farm Advisor J. R. Waters, will attend the sixth annual agricultural club convention at the University Farm at Davis on October 14, 15 and 16.

An interesting program has been arranged by the College of Agriculture for two days, Friday and Saturday. The boys are due to arrive in Davis tomorrow afternoon and the first real session will be held in the evening.

The university has made arrangements for tents to be used for sleeping quarters. Each boy is to take his bed roll and eating utensils as a regular army camp will be conducted during the convention.

The department has much in store for the boys. During the day the visitors will see the work being done by the University at the farm, such as stock judging, classes in irrigation and pruning. Each evening there will be a big jolly-up moving picture, stunts, and a bonfire. Besides this, at odd hours, there will be athletic contests and swimming races.

A very successful club contest was finished in Orange county in August at Harper. Eight contestants completed a pig fattening race. The pigs were judged on best conformation and most economic gains. Billie Middleton, the winner at Harper, and a club boy from Fullerton, will make the trip to the convention with J. R. Waters, assistant farm advisor.

OLD BAY STATE COW WONDER DESPITE AGE

As a rule a fifteen-year-old cow is not considered of much value as a milk producer. Sentiment may permit a hitherto profitable milk producer to linger on the farm and receive kind treatment as a reward for good services.

Not so with Sophie 19th of Hood Farm, Lowell, Massachusetts. At the age of fifteen years and nine months she has broken her ninth official world's record for butter production. The totals of her nine records are 110,918 pounds of milk and 6,353 pounds of butter fat.

The owner, Mr. Hood, apparently is not amazed at this wonderful record. He simply states that the cow has always been given the best of care.

Dairymen who strive to get the greatest possible yield from their cows should seriously consider Mr. Hood's experience and accord their animals the treatment they require in order to give the maximum yield.

Ralph E. Smith, Well Known in County, Tells Way to Combat Pest

A dust to be used in fighting the citrus aphid has been developed by Ralph E. Smith, chemist for the Walnut Growers Manufacturing company, long connected with pest control work in this state.

Smith, who as a state and federal pest investigator has become very well known in Orange county, visited the office of County Horticultural Commissioner E. L. Morris recently. Information given by him to M. J. Pickering and other deputy horticultural commissioners at that time is outlined as follows:

"As is well known to citrus growers, there are two difficulties in controlling the citrus aphid. "One is the extreme difficulty of getting spray, or other killing agent, on the bug. The second is the great rapidity of increase of the number that may be left, amounting in a short time to a re-infestation."

"The aphid causes the leaves of the orange tree to curl up in such a manner that it is impossible to get spray on all of them. Thus some are always left, and they speedily increase in numbers. "This curling of the leaves of the tree stops growth, and stunts the tree. The aphid is more harmful to small trees than larger ones, though large trees are sometimes affected severely."

Smith has carried on quite a number of experiments to determine the proper method of control and the best method of material used, and the best method of treatment. He has settled, for the time being at least, on a preparation called nico-sulphur, the sulphur being added for the control of the red spider.

This preparation can be applied by the grower himself, using some form of a light dust sprayer, carried on the grower's back.

One of the important points to remember, it is pointed out, is that the infested trees must be treated more than once. It is equally important to begin as soon as any aphid appear in the orchard, as then the aphid can be checked before all the trees become infested. For small trees, one year old, one ounce is sufficient. A five-year old tree will require on the average, three ounces. The material costs 20 cents per pound. Thus the cost per tree is very light.

At present, nico-sulphur is put up in airtight wooden barrel containers of 100 pounds each. A barrel can be opened, any amount taken out as desired, and the lid replaced.

It is the intention of the company manufacturing this material to put it on the market in fifty, thirty and ten-pound containers. These containers will be cans having a top that can be opened and closed again airtight. This will make the remedy for citrus aphid accessible to any grower.

LUMINOUS CABLE AIDS SHIPS DURING FOGS

PARIS, Oct. 13.—Tests of a luminous cable by which steamers may enter and leave port during heavy fogs have been ordered by Admiral Fournier and the minister of the navy, who have reported that to have been entirely successful. It has been decided to install one of these cables in the principal French ports, and the Matin says the placing of one across the English channel is being considered.

ARMED PRISONERS IN PENITENTIARY RIOT

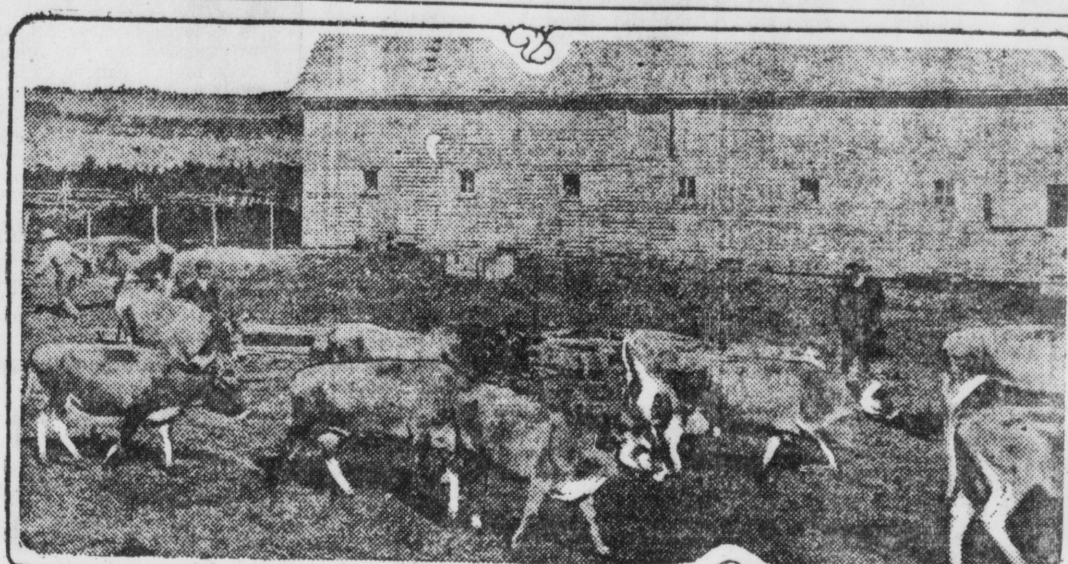

BALTIMORE, Oct. 13.—Two prisoners, armed with pistols taken from overpowered guards, attempted to stampede the convicts at Maryland penitentiary into a general riot. One escaped, as the two men—David Bender, sentenced for murder, and James C. Evans, sentenced for robbery, who started the trouble, surrendered to Marshal Carter, who had held the penitentiary guards at bay for nearly an hour. Two other prisoners were shot.

BOMB THREAT LETTER SENT TO CONVENTION

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—Threats of a bomb explosion were made in an anonymous letter received by A. H. Reinhardt, chairman of the National Association of Purchasing Agents convention, in session here. The letter read: "Let those gentlemen kill themselves. They think they are sitting on a safety valve. They will continue to sit on a safety valve until they pass out." It is believed that the letter was inspired by a statement made by Mr. Reinhardt in an address in which he said: "We must buy nothing but essentials until the general decline in prices has been completed." H. S. Rhett, purchasing agent for the American Red Cross, said that most of the members looked upon the letter as a "joke."

BUTTER AND WHEAT ARE GOLDEN RIVALS FOR FARM SUPREMACY

HOME FROM THE PASTURE

WINNIPEG, Man., Oct. 13 —

"Enough western Canadian butter to butter every slice of bread that western Canada produces from its wheat" is the slogan of western Canada's interprovincial dairy association.

Farmers' co-operative dairy organizations in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta formerly worked independently and turned out different standards of butter. Interprovincial dairy conventions have established a uniform standard. In the last "all Canada" competition, Alberta won first, second and third prizes; Quebec, fourth and fifth; and Manitoba, sixth. The score for the first prize was 98 and for the sixth 97.4, a difference of six-tenths between the first and sixth.

The co-operative movement which began among the grain growers has grown rapidly among the dairymen in the last few years. The government has advanced money to enable the associations to build creameries which furnish convenient local markets. Co-operative marketing has increased farmers' profits, improved standards of dairying and developed the breeding of dairy cattle.

The Manitoba Co-operative Dairies, Ltd., just organized, will embrace all the local co-operative societies of the province and be one of the biggest things of its kind in western Canada.

"Experience everywhere," said J. M. Carruthers, general manager, "has proved that straight grain farming has had to give way to mixed farming. Eventually every farmer will keep cows and market milk and butter. New prosperity is coming to western Canada with the increasing realization among farmers that mixed farming is the foundation stone of agricultural success."

FRENCH CABINET TO WAR ON HIGH COSTS

PARIS, Oct. 13.—The cabinet has adopted a program to reduce the high cost of living in France. Departmental councils of consumers are to be established, with a central council in Paris. The use of fish is to be encouraged, and many fish markets will be opened, while the exportation of dairy products and cheese will be prohibited.

The importation of frozen meats has increased and the system of distribution has been improved. A stricter enforcement of food laws and suppression of profiteering is promised, and new regulations will be drafted to control the slaughter and sale of beef in an effort to check the rapidly rising prices.

NEW PLANS LAID IN BATTLE ON SELLING OF ADULTERATED PRODUCTS

Present Law Found to Be 'Shot Full of Holes,' Committee Finds

CHEMIST HERE OCT. 28

Eden and Hart to Be Asked To Work for Legislation Sought by Bureau

That the present law under which it is possible to prosecute persons selling adulterated, worthless fertilizer is "shot full of holes" and worse than useless, is the gist of a report which will be made to the directors of the County Farm Bureau when they hold their regular monthly meeting, Friday, it was learned today.

The fertilizer committee of the bureau is scheduled to report on a recent conference held with District Attorney L. A. West. This report will be made as programmed, but it will include practically nothing more than the statement that the present law pertaining to the sale of fertilizer is utterly unsatisfactory.

After the conference with the district attorney, the committee decided that inasmuch as the law in question contains no workable penal clause whereby persons convicted of illegal sale of fertilizer can be fined, practically a new law will have to be put through the next session of the legislature.

However, definite forward steps in the direction sought by the Farm Bureau are expected to be taken here on October 28, when George B. Gray, chief chemist of the state bureau of fertilizer control, will be in Santa Ana in order to thoroughly discuss the question with the fertilizer committee. Another expert who will be here on October 28 is Prof. W. P. Kelley, chemist at the Citrus Experiment station, Riverside.

May Solve Difficulty
It is believed that Gray and Kelley, owing to their wide experience in matters pertaining to fertilizer, will be able to suggest a satisfactory plan whereby the sale of fertilizer in California may be regulated.

When the skeleton of a proposed law has been definitely drafted, the law will be presented to the legislature. It will be state senator and assemblyman, respectively, for guidance at the next session of the legislature.

The shipment of badly adulterated fertilizer into Orange county continues, according to County Sealer George McPhee. A certain shipment received within the past two or three days at Olive from Nevada was found to contain 50 per cent of sand. McPhee said today. This fertilizer cost the purchaser $19.50 per ton f. o. b. Olive.

It is estimated that the citrus growers disburse between $800,000 and $1,000,000 annually for fertilizer in Orange county," said McPhee. "Under present conditions, it is unquestionably the case that fully 25 per cent of the fertilizer so purchased is worthless. Thus, it will readily be seen what a large amount of money is wasted by citrus growers who buy the stuff. Not only is a large percentage of the fertilizer worthless, but it is positively injurious to citrus trees."

McPhee on Committee
McPhee is one of those on the farm bureau fertilizer committee. Prof. S. S. Twombly, of Fullerton, is chairman. W. M. Belding, of Tustin, and W. L. York, of La Habra, are the others on the committee. Friday's meeting of the directors of the county bureau will be as all

COUNTY OUT FOR PRIZE OF $500

There are more animals than last, and the animals are of a still higher grade than was displayed at the last fair. A number of imported milk goats are shown, and there are entries from as far East as Vermont. The poultry exhibit is the largest ever shown at Riverside, this being the ninth poultry exhibition. There is a wonderful showing of pigeons and also of bantams.

The educational features in the various departments have been worked out in a very attractive and advantageous way for the benefit of growers and breeders. Heads of departments and specialists in their various lines from Davis, the State Department of Agriculture, and even from the Federal Department, are present to hold demonstrations and assist in every educational effort.

The Riverside farm bureau has devoted its efforts this year to a demonstration of the junior work which that organization is promoting for the benefit of the young grower and breeder. It is a very interesting and valuable exhibit.

The tractor show is housed in a large section by itself, and is attracting a great amount of interest. The auto show, under its big top, is putting up a fine display.

The racing program this year is the largest that has been provided on the Pacific coast for the season. There are more harness horses and runners at Riverside this fall than at any race meet in the United States outside of the Grand Circuit.

STATE FERTILIZER EXPERT IS CALLED

day session, in order that numbers of matters that have accumulated during the month may be disposed of.

H. B. Woodrugh, county representative to the state organization, will submit a large number of State as well as National Federation matters.

A report for the power committee will be made by S. Saunby, of Tustin. This committee expects to submit data from Orange county at the adjourned hearing before the Railroad commission on October 25.

VOTE AGAINST BOND ISSUE.
PASADENA, Oct. 13.—Seven to one against a proposed $4,500,000 bond issue for a municipal railroad to Los Angeles. Two to one in favor of changing Pasadena's government from a commission to a manager form.

Such was the result of the post-card referendum taken by the Pasadena Chamber of Commerce. The vote was certified to by a committee of four.

Upon the railroad bond proposition the vote was: For, 55; against, 350. For manager form, 282; against any change from the commission, 102.

The Chamber adopted a resolution formally putting itself on record as against the municipal railroad and for the manager form of government. Both proposals will be voted upon November 2.

W. H. MORSE, of Seattle, Wash., who says he can now turn out as much work as he could thirty years ago, in spite of his age. Gives Tanlac credit for his splendid health.

"I am in my eighty-fifth year, but since taking Tanlac I am as hale and hearty as I ever was and can do as much work as I could thirty years ago," declared W. H. Morse, of 52 Blaine St., Seattle, Wash. Although in his eighty-fifth year, Mr. Morse is still daily to be found engaged in hard work down at the Ames Shipyard and is remarkably well preserved for his years.

"Last spring I had an attack of the flu which left me in a very badly run down condition and so weak that I could hardly get around. For a long while I had a very bad cold that I couldn't shake off and my bronchial tubes were so choked up that I was coughing all the time. I had no appetite and in fact ate so little that I was steadily losing weight. I couldn't sleep at nights and became very much worried about my condition, because I couldn't find anything to straighten me up and restore my lost strength.

"I saw by the papers what fine work Tanlac was doing for other folks, so I got some for myself. It did me good right from the start, for in a very short while my cough left me, and I was eating fine and sure did enjoy every mouthful. I slept better at nights and was soon feeling much better in every way. I have gained seven pounds in weight and am so much stronger that I can turn out about as much work as most any other man, in spite of my years. Tanlac certainly must be a great medicine to put me on my feet like this, and I'm glad of the chance to tell everybody about it."

Tanlac is sold in Santa Ana by Rowley Drug Co., Heying Pharmacy, Anaheim, and the leading druggists in every town.

GRAPES PAYING WELL.
BRAWLEY, Oct. 13.—Fresno, being considered the grape center of California and the United States, is making much ado and securing much publicity from the fact that their top car of grapes sold for $5100 recently, but the Imperial Valley vineyard is to produce several cars that went above the figure, and one car brought more than $7000 net.

Local grape growers are of the opinion that the land, climate conditions and water supply here are ideal for grape culture.

150 CARS ORANGES.
CUCAMONGA, Oct. 13.—The Cucamonga Citrus Association closed the fiscal year with the usual annual meeting of members, officers and directors, held at the association house. In giving his report Manager Petty announced that the total returns paid to growers was $196,400.72. Of this amount $187,475.79 was paid on oranges and $8,925.93 to the lemon growers. Shipments figured on the basis of cars would amount to approximately 15

C. E. Utt, Seeing Canada, Says Mistake Was Made in Reciprocity Matter

That there should be complete reciprocity between the United States and Canada is a declaration made in a letter received by the Register from C. E. Utt, who has been making an extensive tour into the Hudson's Bay sections of Canada.

He says that Canada made a mistake when she turned down Laurier's reciprocity proposal.

In his letter, Utt discusses Canada's development and prospects and some of her problems very interestingly and clearly. The letter follows in full:

Perhaps we Americans are too busy thinking about our own affairs, and boasting about them, to give much attention to our sister nation to the north of us.

Canada is in area almost as large as the United States and yet has less than one tenth of our population and wealth. It is a superficial view to assume that our more rapid development is due to any superior native ability on our part. It is due partly to a physical condition, but principally to political mischance, which will not say misfortune, for who is able to be sure which is blessing and which misfortune? When we began our revolution against the King of England, we sent an army to take Canada.

Instead of a colony of mutinous French ready to join the rebellion, we found them already reconciled to British rule and content to smoke their pipes in peace beside their hearthstones in their Arcadian homesteads. We also found Canada defended by several thousand British regulars who after their habit were well disposed to fight. So while we captured Montreal we failed to take Quebec, General Montgomery dying in the attempt where but a few years before General Wolfe had died with victory.

Canada Wakes Up

The failure of the Yankee to incorporate all British America in the new experiment in government left Canada to vegetate for nearly a century before conditions forced nationhood upon her and compelled her to take account of resources and possibilities.

With the ending of the revolution, our people pressed westward and within half a century were planting colonies of agriculturists on the Pacific coast.

One political system, too, soon embraced a zone from sea to sea, and she was made up of French, principally of home-loving French, would remain Quebec for centuries. Progress in Canada could come only from the English. The English had handicaps. They were few in number and poor, pioneers struggling to hew out for themselves a home in the wilderness.

Added to their meager numbers and the difficulties of a new country the settlers were obsessed with the orthodox theory of autocratic government. They felt unable to breathe without a king to provide permission. Many of them had fled from the revolted colonies for this faith and it took a couple of generations to work out their conversion. Autocracy like John Barleycorn daily prepares its own grave and presently the descendants of the Loyalists began to chafe under autocratic rule. The very business of their country and the free out-of-doors put ideas into their heads, just as before it had done to their Yankee brothers.

So it came to pass in the fullness of time that murmurings of discontent were heard in the provinces of and soon an insurrection broke out in Ontario and Quebec sometimes dignified as the "Canadian Rebellion." John Bull is an apt scholar with no desire to learn the same lesson twice, so when the insurrectionists had called the matter to his attention, he at once took steps to provide for representative government in his American provinces.

Representative government in provinces did not and could not provide for national development and it was not until federation took place in 1867 that Canada was in shape to think about development and expansion. At first the Dominion consisted of Ontario, Quebec, British Columbia and the eastern provinces excepting Newfoundland, which has preferred to remain out of the federation. This left the greater part of the area of what is now Canada in the hands of the Hudson's Bay company.

Recent Development

Arrangements were soon made by which the company surrendered its territorial right to the Dominion government and out of this territory I have been erected the three great wheat growing states of Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta with the great territory of Yukon to the north. Between this latter and Hudson's Bay there is a remnant of a few hundred thousand square miles left, known as the Northwest territory.

Thus the greater part of Canadian development has taken place within the last thirty or forty years. If you wish to see how rapid and extensive this development has been just get a good railway map of Canada and note the thousands of miles west of Ontario that has practically all been constructed within the last thirty-five years. Consider the city of Winnipeg, a town with a population in excess of a quarter of a million, which forty years ago was little more than a name, and that, scarcely heard of as far away as Minnesota.

In 1890, the mineral production of Canada was around ten million dollars value. By 1919 the annual output had risen to two hundred and twelve million dollars.

Examine Vancouver, thirty odd years ago the proposed terminus of the Canadian Pacific railway. Now Vancouver is a city of between 100,000 and 200,000 inhabitants and an active and virile competitor with Seattle and Portland for the trade of the Pacific.

I think the most boastful Yankee will have to admit that Canada is not so slow. Indeed, why should she be? Her people are our own blood brothers, born nearly a century later, it is true, but with common interests, a common ideal and inevitably a common destiny.

Room For Many More

The real development of Canada is only well begun. Where now there are less than ten millions of people there is room for forty millions.

Are you aware that Canada possesses one-seventh of the world's coal deposits, ranking second to the United States in that respect? I ask the question because the information came as a surprise to me. I had thought of Canada primarily as a grain-producing section, rich in minerals, gold, silver, copper, nickel, iron and coal, but I had not realized the magnitude of her coal resources. Coal and iron play a very large and important role in the wealth and development of modern states.

Canada's oil deposits have not yet been developed. A little oil is now being produced in Ontario and Southern Alberta.

The great deposits which are chartered as covering several thousand square miles are located in the north. The presence of oil in the north is indicated by numerous and extensive oil seeps and tar sands. No thorough prospecting has yet been done in this region, but a number of drilling outfits are now at work, and some report passing through oil sand but none is yet pumping oil.

The Imperial Oil company (Canadian for Standard) it drilling for up the McKenzie river near the Arctic Circle and has, I am told, set aside several million dollars for the thorough prospecting of these northern fields. It may be quite possible that the next big oil field will be located in Canada. While at Peace River, I saw two rigs at work just in the edge of town, but could get no real information as to facts about the operations.

Wishing to know something regarding the law governing oil exploitation I approached an eighty year old wooden shack bearing the illuminating legend, "Oil Exchange." The Spider met me on the sidewalk, glad hand extended and dragged me into his parlor. He was a "gusher" all right, his flow of gladness words of prosperity and affluence almost at hand could not be surpassed even by a Los Angeles man selling oil farms located somewhere in Texas.

Shows Him the Oil

He released my hand and made a dive behind the stove, reappearing with a five-gallon can (one of Jawm D's) half filled with a black sticky liquid which looked like it might have come from the Chapman gusher in Orange county. This, he explained, was fifteen per cent gasoline, fifty per cent kerosene, thirty-five per cent lubricating oil and the balance residue. This amount of residue compares very favorably with the returns coming from the ordinary "flier" in oil.

When the oil stock broker had somewhat run down and paused to hear how many shares I wanted, I made my inquiries as to the Dominion law governing the exploitation of oil fields. If he told the truth the laws are very liberal and intended to encourage development and production.

Canada is rejoicing this year in bumper crops. The past two years have been far below normal. The wheat crop this year will total sixty per cent more than last year. It is predicted that this crop will bring five hundred million dollars.

Canada is our best customer and in all probability will continue to be. She buys from us nine hundred million dollars' worth of goods annually, and sells us seven hundred million. This gives a balance against her. Her sales to Europe, however, are so much more than her purchases that she has a good balance of trade there, but as this balance is not paid in coin, it leaves Canada unable to pay her balance to the United States, which in turn puts Canadian money at a discount. This condition is favorable to the Canadian exporter to the United States, but penalizes the Canadian importer and consumer of American products. This condition will, of course, tend to decrease our sales to Canada, so she will not suffer alone. I have heard some Canadians speak quite bitterly of our discounting their money as though it were due to "cussedness" on the part of the Yankee, rather than the operation of economic law. They, no doubt, do not recall the time when our straitened credit only allowing them to give us thirty-five cents on the dollar for "greenbacks."

Canada's manufactures are increasing and the protection sentiment seems growing rather stronger, although the wheat grower is usually hostile to it.

It will be recalled that Sir Wilfrid Laurier—one of the two statesmen Canada has had—proposed complete reciprocity between Canada and the United States. We ratified this, but Canada very unwisely, I think, defeated it. The reasons were probably two—sentimentalism and special interests (manufacturing).

The sentimentalist feared that reciprocity was the beginning of the recognition of a great fact, community of interest and destiny, which, in the end might lead to political amalgamation.

The manufacturer did not want competition from his Yankee brother just as our American farmer protested—in vain—against Canadian reciprocity passing congress, because he did not want to compete with the Canadian farmer.

The failure of reciprocity between the two sister nations was and will continue to be, on the whole an injury to both countries. That two similar peoples, occupying the same Grand Division, divided by an imaginary line, and imaginary differences, speaking the same language, with the same religion, the same racial strains, the same democratic ideals, with practically the same wages should maintain a tariff barrier between them is about as sensible as trying to lift one's self over a fence by tugging at one's boot straps.

It is on a par with a proposal to erect a mutual tariff wall between California and the balance of the states.

Liquor Question

Canada is struggling with the liquor problem. Prohibition laws have been passed by most of the provinces and enforcement has been rather more difficult than with us because the laws permit the importation of liquor for private use. This, of course, is a big hole through which a train of trouble may come. The four western provinces are re-submitting the question of the fall with the privilege of importation cut out. The few I heard express an opinion on the subject thought that prohibition would be retained.

Southern Californians have an especial interest in Canada, not only because she furnishes so many emigrants to our shores, but because she is such a good customer for our fruit products. Canada cannot have forty million population without giving satisfaction to the orange grower.

USING PARASITES TO FIGHT THE BAGWORM

Friendly parasites which will help farmers combat the bagworm, a pest injurious to shade trees, hedges, and lawns, are being cultivated by the United States Department of Agriculture, which has issued a bulletin telling of the pest and how to fight it.

The bagworm gets its name from its curious habit of crawling about on the infested trees and lawns in a baglike case, in the shelter of which it undergoes all its transformations. When the pest has finished its work it leaves the bag attached to its victim to tell of its ravages.

The bagworm is more limited in territory than the tussock moth and fall webworm, which it somewhat resembles in its activities, but in states south of New York it has given a good deal of trouble.

There are a number of parasites which make life difficult for the bagworm, and the department has developed methods of encouraging these parasites by gathering up large clusters of growth infested with bagworms and placing them in barrels, with a foundation stock of parasites. Holes are left for the parasites to escape when they have reached the proper stage.

LIFE WAS A MISERY TO HER

Says this Woman Until Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Carrollton, Ky.—"I suffered almost two years with female weakness. I could not walk any distance, ride or take any exercise at all without resting. If I swept the floor or did any kind of work it would bring me sickness on. I was weak, languid, had no energy and life was a misery to me. I was under the care of a good physician for several months and tried other remedies. I had read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it. After taking twelve bottles I found myself much improved and I took six more. I have never had any more trouble in that respect since. I have done all kinds of work and at present am an attendant at a State Hospital and am feeling fine. I have recommended your Vegetable Compound to dozens of my friends and shall always recommend it."

Fordson

TRADE MARK

A Fordson Tractor on the farm means more prosperity for the farmer. It doesn't make any difference how you spell that prosperity—whether it is in increased production; whether it is in the saving that comes from a machine over a horse or a mule; whether it comes in a release from the drudgery and all-day and all-night labor on the farm for both man and wife—because the Fordson answers all those problems to the satisfaction of the farmer.

It can't be otherwise. These are the days of progress, and power on the farm is the necessity. It is only a question of what kind of power the farmer is going to have, but no farmer with the facts now before him can question the monetary advantage of machine power over horse and mule-power. The Tractor is the farmer's necessity just as much as the sun is the necessity for growing crops.

All that is necessary for a farmer is to know his Fordson Tractor as familiarly as he understands handling a team of horses. He wants to use the same amount of reason and common sense. In the Fordson Tractor is the concentrated power of eighteen horses, and as flexible as the movement of your arm—much more flexible than horse control—and beyond all comparison much more economical both in service and in keep. Then it will do so many things that horses and mules cannot do, and it doesn't eat when idle.

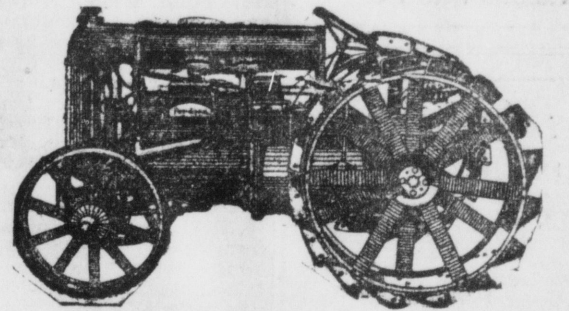

We don't believe there is any question in the mind of any farmer as to the necessity for a Tractor, but he may have some doubts as to what make of Tractor, so that is the reason we are putting this advertisement in this paper to draw his attention to the Fordson Tractor. This is why we put the above arguments before him, and why we now invite him to come in to our place of business and view the Fordson Tractor. Let us show him what it has done. Let us prove to him its superiority over any other Tractor. It means more to him than it does to us. When we sell a Tractor, we make a small profit, but when he buys a Tractor he buys a power that is working for him every day in the year; that is, if he buys a Fordson—we can't speak for the other kinds. Come in!

This leaves but few ranchers hauling. Gardner, Moore and Taylor, and two Japanese, Rev. Ben and Iwagawa. FAREWELL PARTY FOR GRACE LENTZ

EL MODENA, Oct. 13.—Rev. Richard Haworth of East Whittier was in El Modena last Sunday and occupied the morning pulpit most acceptably. He is the Supt. of Bible school work of Friends church in California and a profitable conference with the Sunday school teachers and officers was held at four o'clock in the afternoon. Rev. Haworth was accompanied by Mrs. Haworth, which was a surprise to some of his friends who had not heard of the happy event of their recent marriage.

Quite a large number of people attended the county fair at Huntington Beach, last week.

On Monday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Short, Miss Grace Lentz, was tendered a surprise farewell reception. About fifty of her friends from Orange and El Modena gathered to give her one more good time before her departure for China. From Seattle she will go to Vancouver and sail from there for the station in China, November 18.

Last Friday, which was Mr. Reed's birthday, the other teachers prepared a little surprise in the form of an extra picnic dinner which they served at the Teachers' Institute at Huntington Beach. Mrs. Reed also accompanied them and enjoyed the occasion. The birthday cake was baked and decorated by Mrs. Crowell, the primary teacher.

Mrs. Montgomery is having considerable work done on her house on Park street, where she expects to make her home soon.

Protecting alfalfa from weevil pest.

The United States Department of Agriculture has in press a new bulletin on control of the alfalfa weevil, which made its appearance in Utah a few years ago and has been spreading at the rate of about 10 miles a year. Reports received at the department in the last few weeks show that the weevil has been discovered in Reno, Nev., Tipton, Nev., Castle Dale, Utah, Twin Falls, Idaho and in the Malheur Valley of Oregon.

No great amount of damage has been done this year, but every effort is being made to intercept the progress of the new pest before it can reach the large alfalfa areas.

Garrett will speak at Sawtelle, Oct. 19.

W. R. Garrett, former city attorney of Orange and who gained considerable prominence throughout the county by his patriotic addresses in liberty loan campaigns, is getting back into the harness as a public speaker at Santa Monica, where he is now making his home.

CHANDLER SIX $1895

Chandler is Back to $1895

Chandler's reduction to $1895 is the news on the street today. And it's good news to the car-using public, because it means that Chandler has taken another big stride forward in the leadership of its field.

The Greatest Dollar-for-Dollar Value Throughout the Industry

The Chandler has always been closely priced and today, at $1895, it is decidedly the greatest value in the whole automobile industry.

The Leader of All Sixes; Most Closely Priced

It has always been the basic policy of the Chandler Company to build a really fine automobile and to price it closely. The great Chandler plant, the millions of capital employed in Chandler production are back of that statement. They exist because of that policy. Chandler is the greatest of sixes and the most fairly priced.

Constantly Refined and Improved But Never Radically Changed

Other cars of many kinds and many motors have come and gone while the Chandler Six, now in its eighth year, lives and grows, and every season multiplies its thousands of friends. There is only one Chandler Six, refined and improved throughout the years but never radically changed. There is no other car like it. You will find the exclusive Chandler motor under the hood of no other car. No other car, within hundreds of dollars of the Chandler price, has the features characteristic of the highest type of design and construction for which the Chandler Six is justly famous.
